My CVs

What It Is

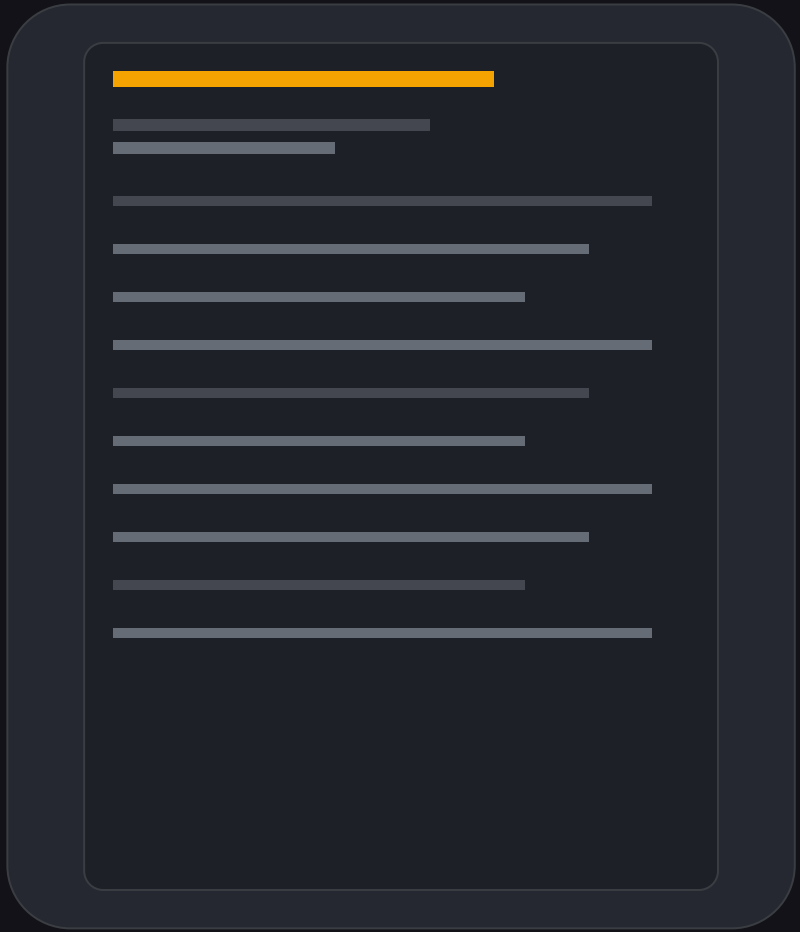
A personal CV management hub where you can create, store, and manage multiple versions of your CV.

How We Use It

Upload existing CVs or build new ones from scratch. Maintain different versions tailored to different industries or role types. Select which CV to attach when applying for jobs.

Why It's Important

Different roles require different emphasis. Having multiple CV versions ready means you can apply quickly with the most relevant version, increasing your chances of getting shortlisted.



Profile

Credentials

What It Is

A verified digital wallet for your qualifications, certifications, licences, and professional memberships.

How We Use It

Upload credential documents, link to verification sources, and set expiry reminders. Verified credentials display a trust badge on your profile.

Why It's Important

Verified credentials build instant trust with recruiters and employers. They eliminate back-and-forth document requests and fast-track you through screening stages.

Profile

Video Profile

What It Is

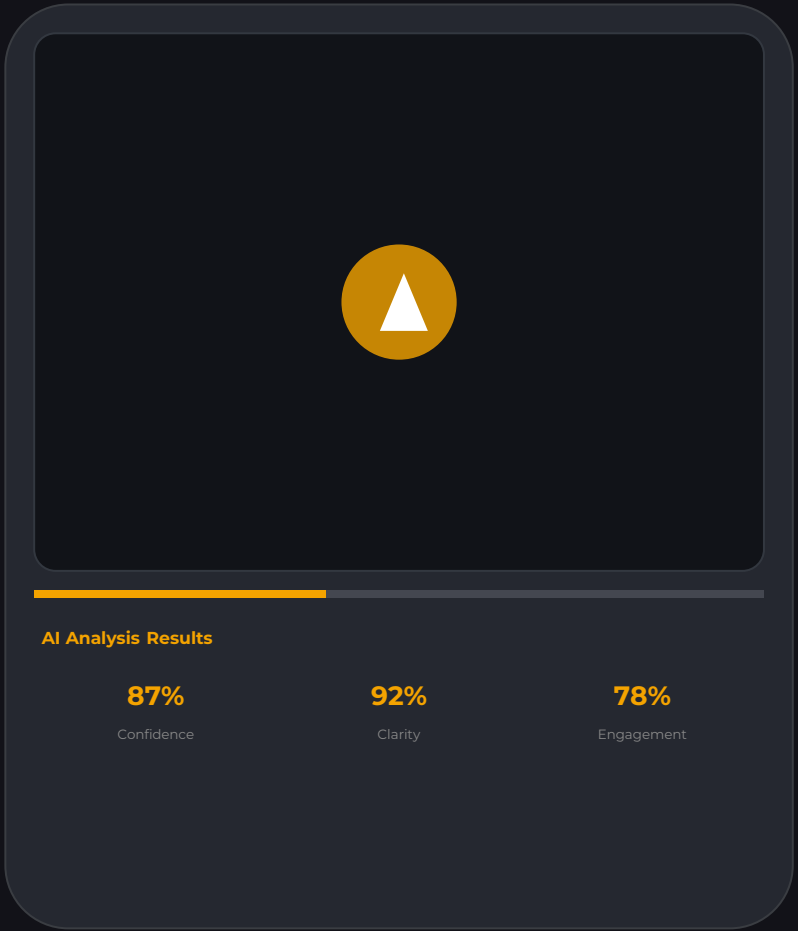
A short recorded video introduction that supplements your written CV and lets employers see and hear you before an interview.

How We Use It

Record a 60–90 second video introducing yourself — your background, strengths, and what you're looking for. The video attaches to your profile and is visible to recruiters.

Why It's Important

A video profile humanises your application and helps you stand out in a sea of text-based CVs. It showcases communication skills, confidence, and personality that a CV can't convey.



Profile

Skill Verifications

What It Is

Validated skill assessments that prove your claimed abilities through standardised tests.

How We Use It

Take skill verification tests in your areas of expertise. Passing a test adds a verified badge to that skill on your profile, visible to all recruiters.

Why It's Important

Anyone can list skills on a CV. Verified skills give you a competitive edge by providing objective proof of your abilities, making recruiters more likely to shortlist you.

Profile

CV Templates

What It Is

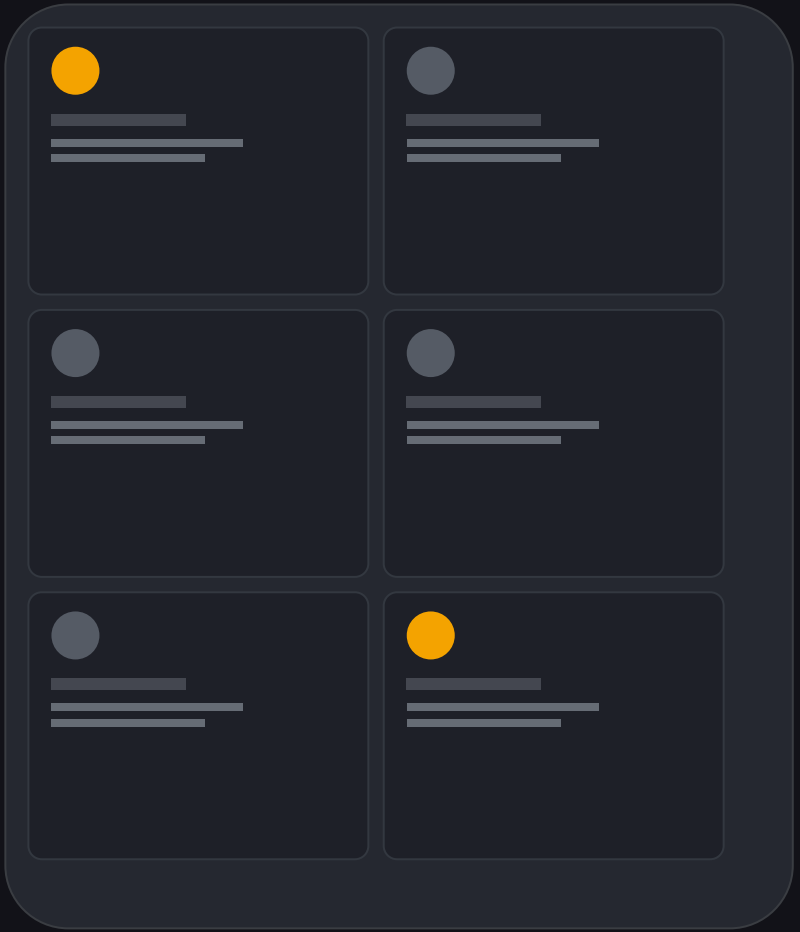
A library of professionally designed CV templates that you can use to build polished, well-structured CVs.

How We Use It

Browse templates by industry or style, select one, and fill in your details. The template handles formatting, layout, and design so you can focus on content.

Why It's Important

Presentation matters. A well-formatted CV makes a strong first impression, is easier for recruiters to scan, and ensures your content is structured in the way hiring managers expect.



Job Search

6 features

Job Search

All Jobs

What It Is

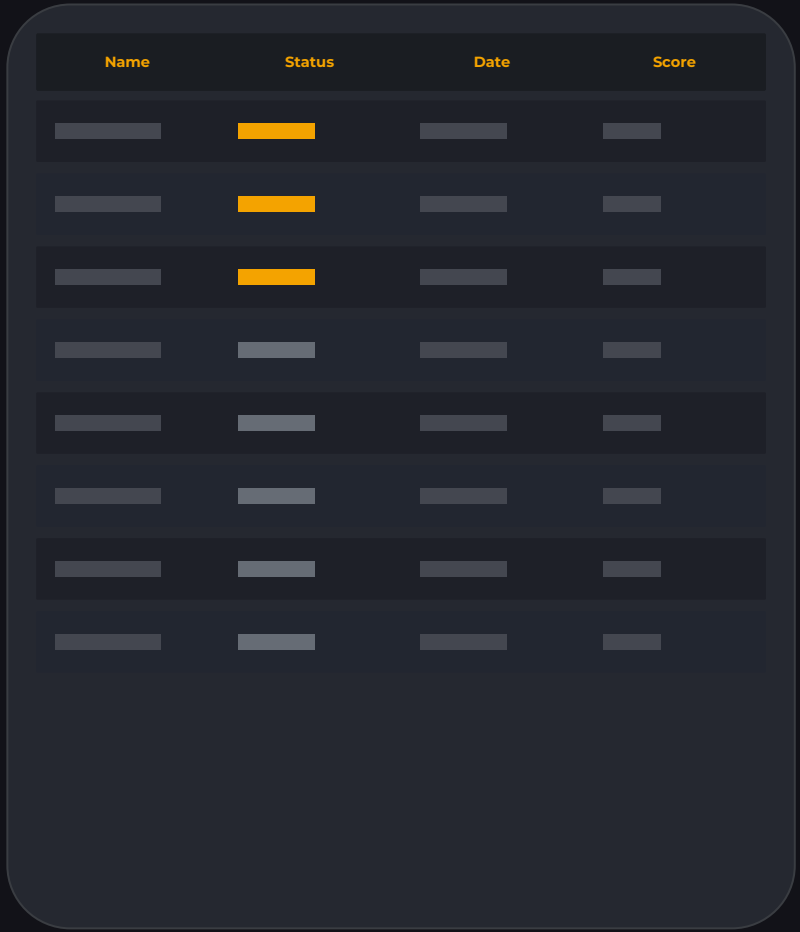
The complete job listings board showing all available opportunities on the platform.

How We Use It

Browse, search, and filter jobs by title, industry, location, salary range, job type, and experience level. Click into any listing for full details and apply directly.

Why It's Important

A centralised job board gives you access to all opportunities in one place, saving time compared to checking multiple sources.



Job Search

Auto Match

What It Is

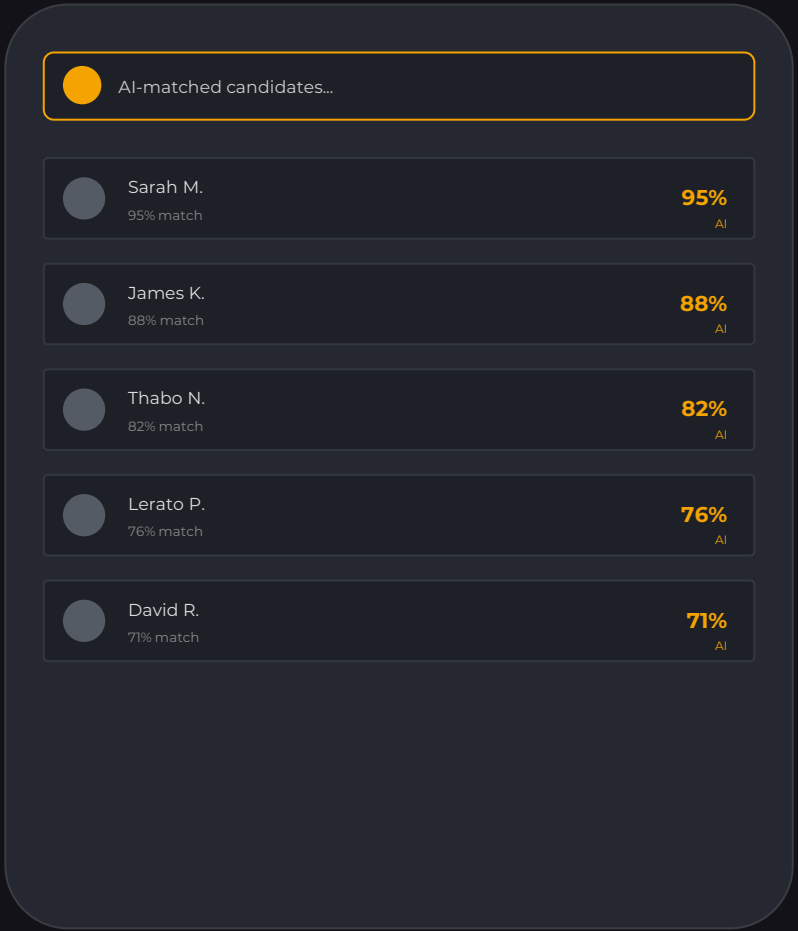
An AI-powered feature that automatically matches you with jobs based on your profile, skills, experience, and preferences.

How We Use It

Complete your profile and set your job preferences. The system continuously scans new listings and notifies you when a strong match appears — no manual searching needed.

Why It's Important

You can't search 24/7, but Auto Match can. It ensures you never miss a relevant opportunity, including roles you might not have found through manual search.



Job Search

Manual Search

What It Is

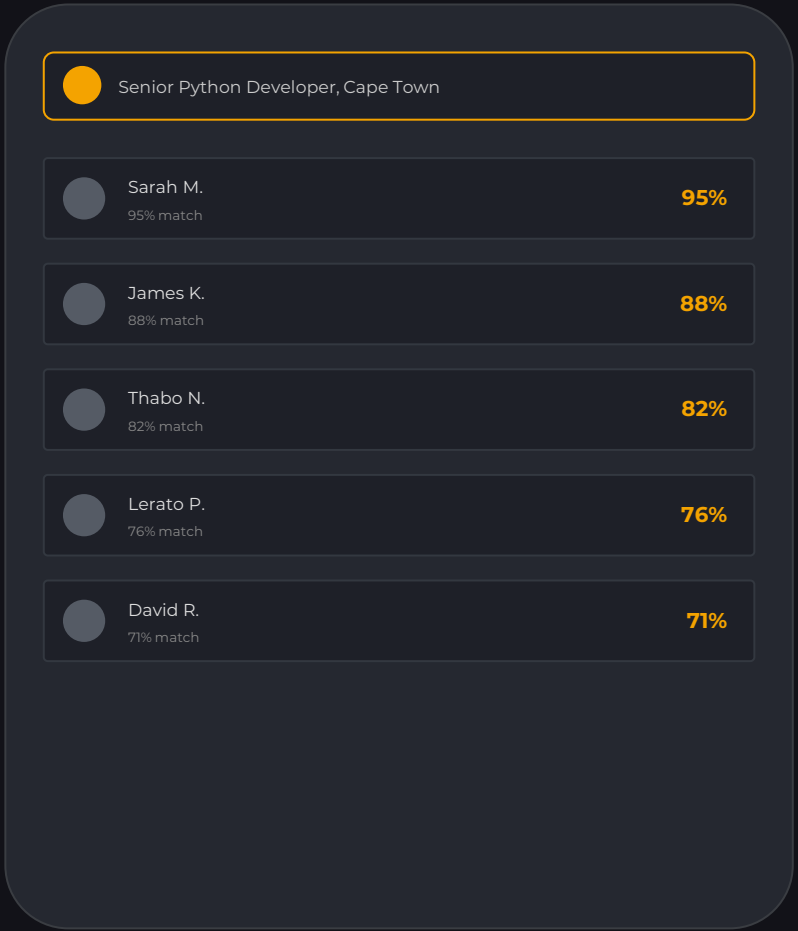
An advanced search tool with detailed filters for finding specific job opportunities.

How We Use It

Use keyword search combined with filters — location, salary, industry, company size, remote/hybrid/onsite, contract type — to narrow down exactly the roles you want.

Why It's Important

When you know exactly what you're looking for, Manual Search gives you precision control to find it quickly without wading through irrelevant listings.



Job Search

Saved Searches

What It Is

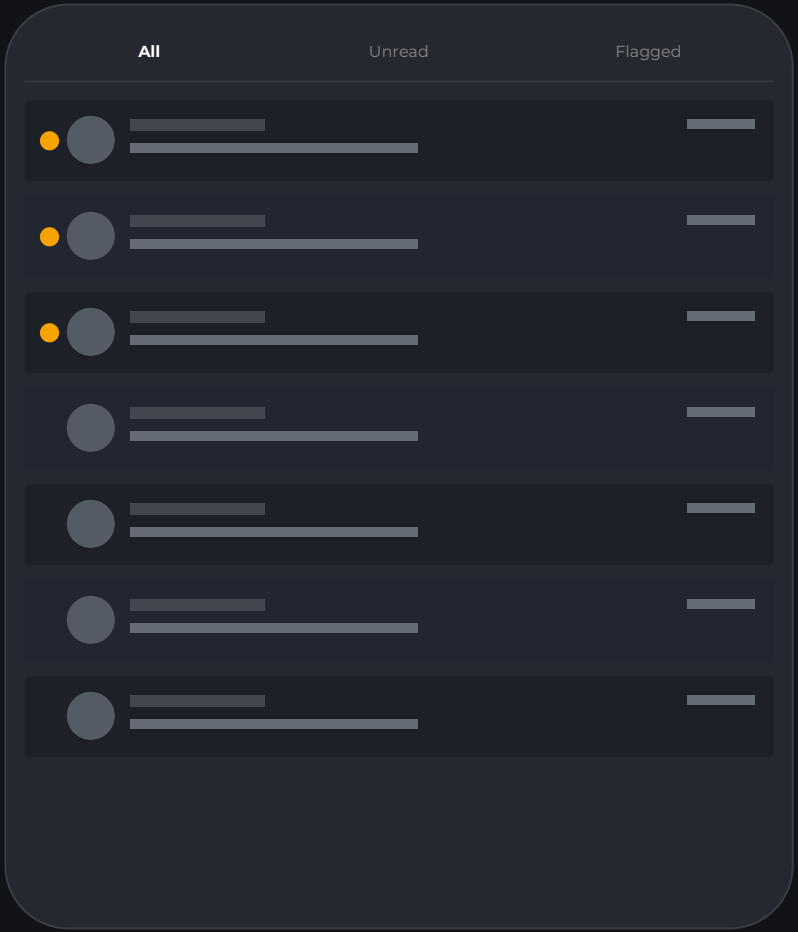
The ability to save your search criteria and receive alerts when new jobs match those criteria.

How We Use It

After setting your filters in Manual Search, save the search with a name. You'll receive notifications whenever new jobs matching those criteria are posted.

Why It's Important

Saved Searches automate your job hunt. Instead of repeating the same search daily, you get proactive alerts — keeping you among the first to apply.



Favourites

What It Is

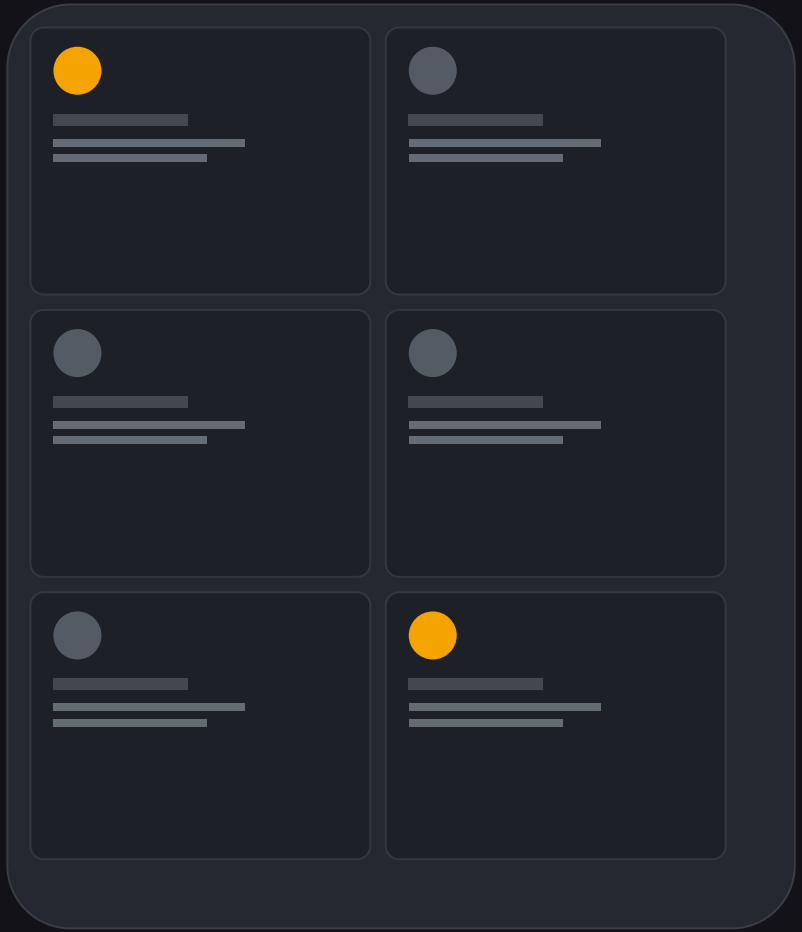
A personal shortlist of jobs you're interested in but haven't applied to yet.

How We Use It

Click the favourite icon on any job listing to save it. Review your favourites list when you're ready to apply, compare options, or revisit roles you're considering.

Why It's Important

Job searching is a process of comparison. Favourites let you bookmark and come back to opportunities without losing track of them.



Job Search

Company Research

What It Is

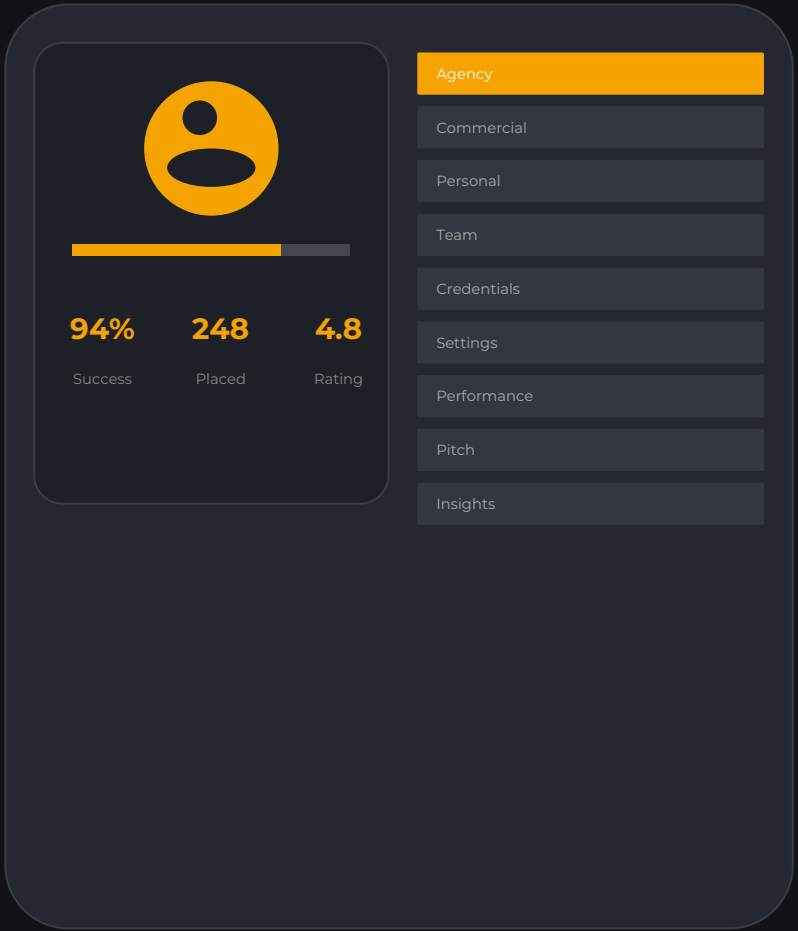
Detailed company profiles providing insights into potential employers — culture, size, industry, reviews, and hiring activity.

How We Use It

Before applying, research the company's profile to understand their values, team size, growth trajectory, and what current and former employees say about working there.

Why It's Important

Applying blindly wastes time. Company Research helps you target employers that align with your values and career goals, and prepares you for interviews with informed questions.



Applications

10 features

My Applications

What It Is

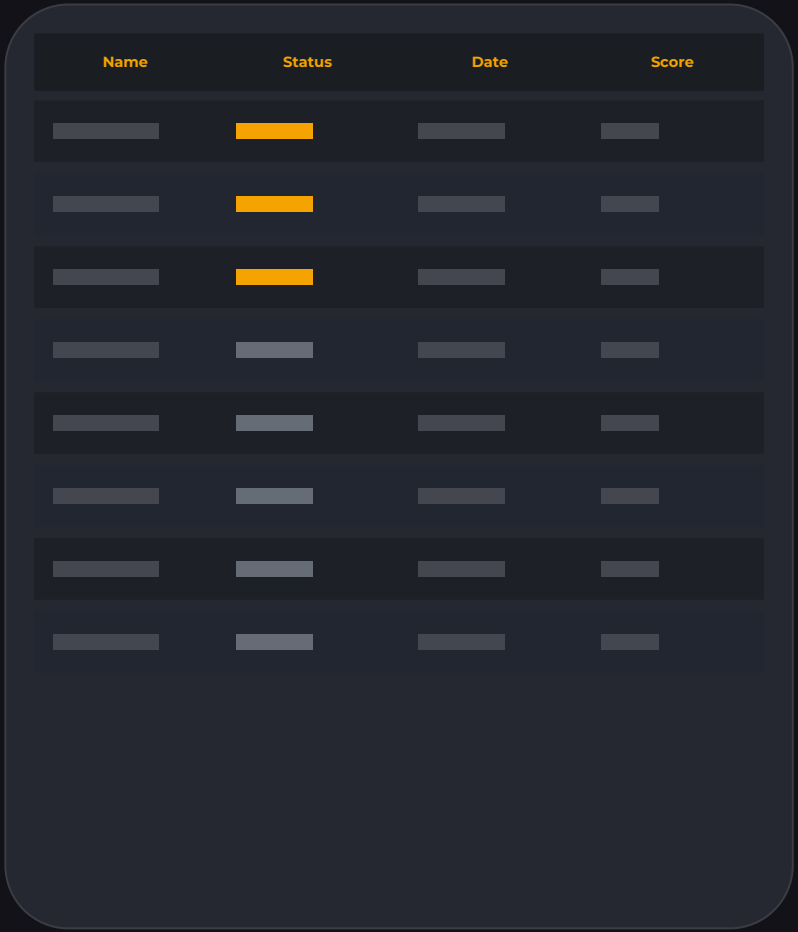
A personal dashboard showing every job you've applied for, with current status and history.

How We Use It

View all your applications in one place, see which stage each is at (submitted, reviewed, interview, offer), and access application details and correspondence.

Why It's Important

When you're applying to multiple roles, it's easy to lose track. My Applications keeps everything organised and ensures you never miss a follow-up.



Applications

App Tracker

What It Is

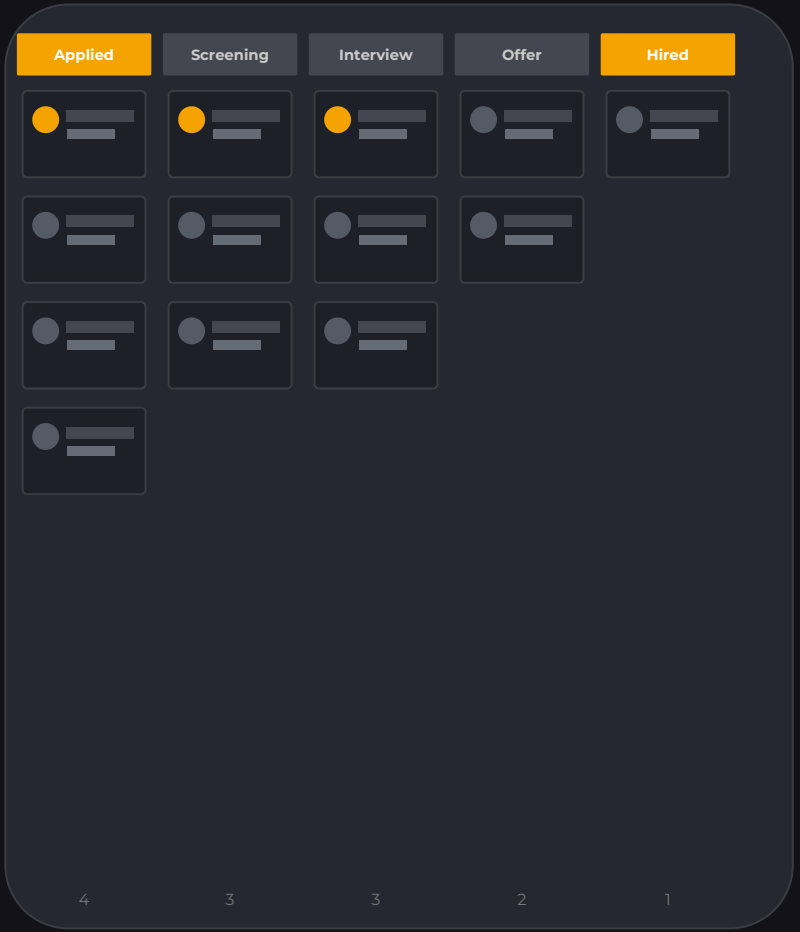
A visual pipeline tracker that shows the progress of each application through the hiring stages.

How We Use It

See a timeline view of each application — when you applied, when it was viewed, when you moved to the next stage. Get notified of status changes in real time.

Why It's Important

Transparency reduces anxiety. Knowing where you stand lets you plan your next moves, follow up at the right time, and focus energy on active opportunities.



Applications

App Analytics

What It Is

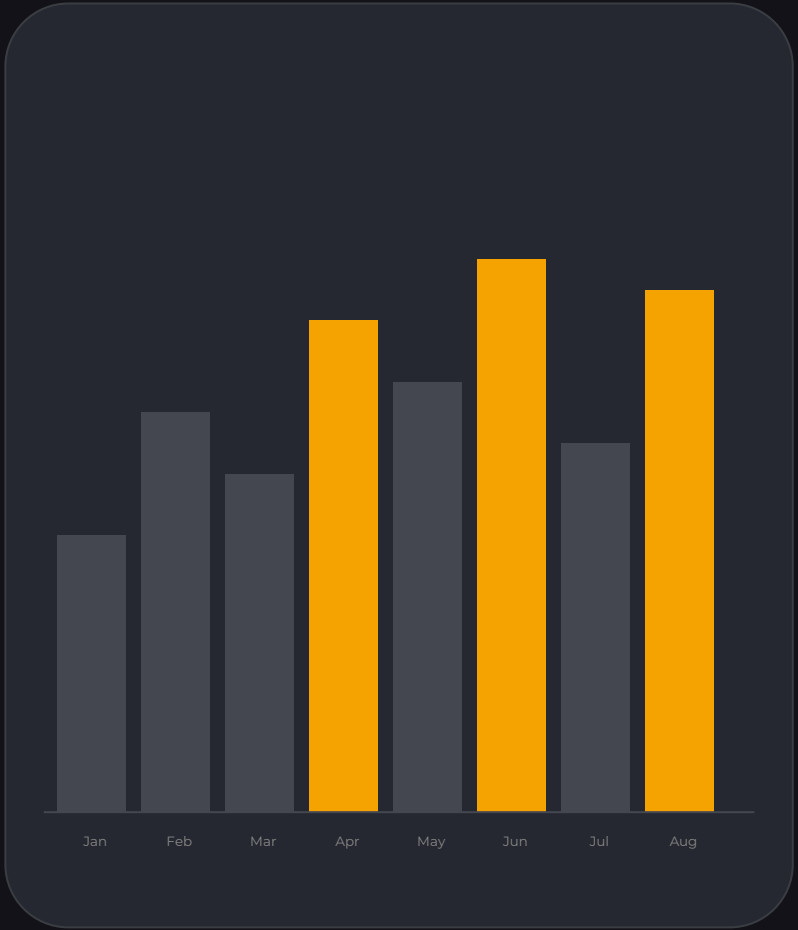
Personal analytics on your application performance — response rates, stage conversion, and trends.

How We Use It

Review metrics like how many applications resulted in interviews, which industries respond most, and how your success rate compares over time. Identify patterns and adjust your strategy.

Why It's Important

Data-driven job searching is more effective. App Analytics shows you what's working and what isn't, so you can refine your approach instead of repeating the same mistakes.



Applications

Notes & Tags

What It Is

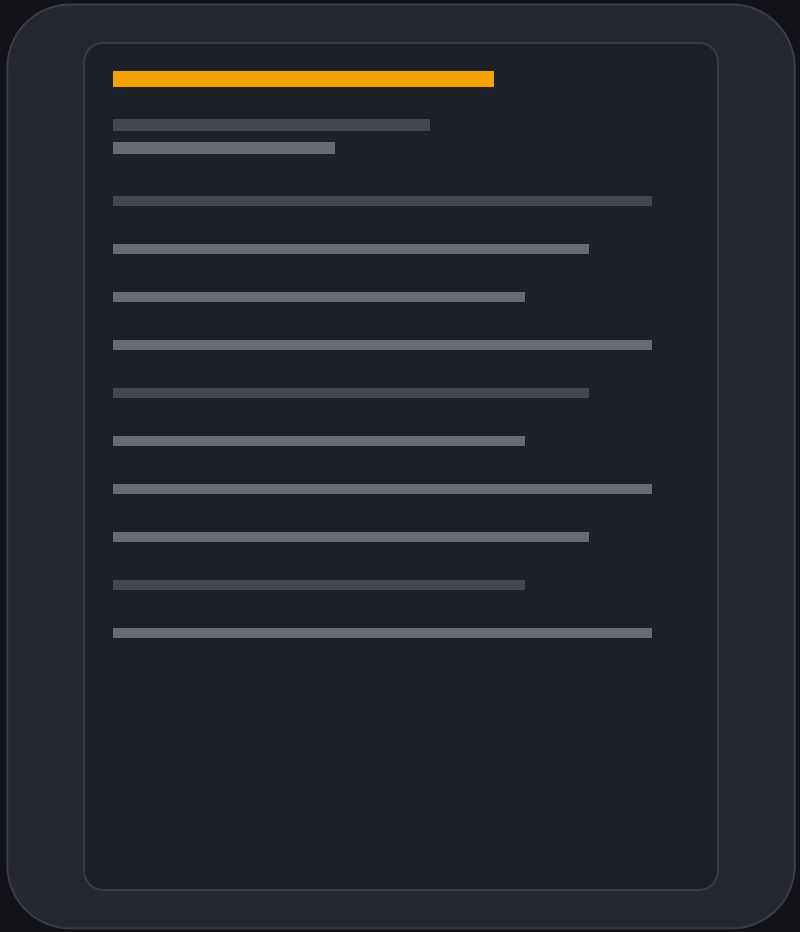
A personal annotation system for adding notes and tags to your job applications.

How We Use It

Add notes to any application — reminders about the role, interview prep points, or contact details. Tag applications by priority, industry, or any custom label.

Why It's Important

Staying organised across dozens of applications is crucial. Notes and tags give you a personal CRM for your job search, keeping important details at your fingertips.



Applications

Reminders

What It Is

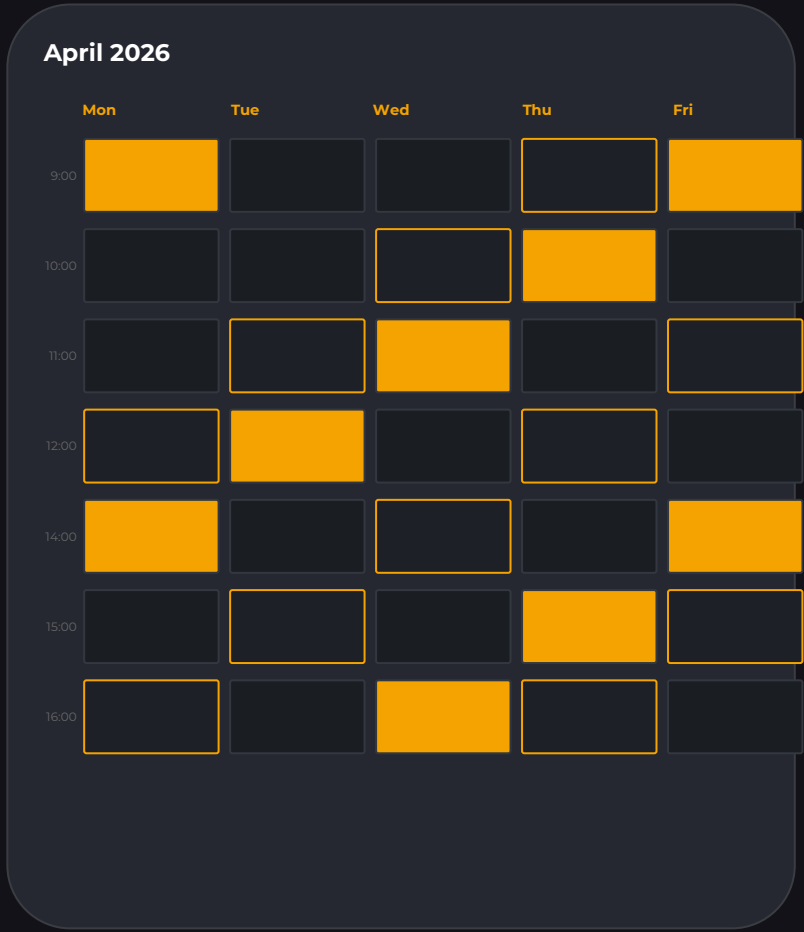
Customisable alerts and reminders tied to your applications and job search activities.

How We Use It

Set reminders to follow up on an application, prepare for an upcoming interview, submit requested documents, or check back on a saved job.

Why It's Important

Missing a deadline or forgetting to follow up can cost you an opportunity. Reminders ensure you stay on top of every action item in your job search.



Applications

Application Portal

What It Is

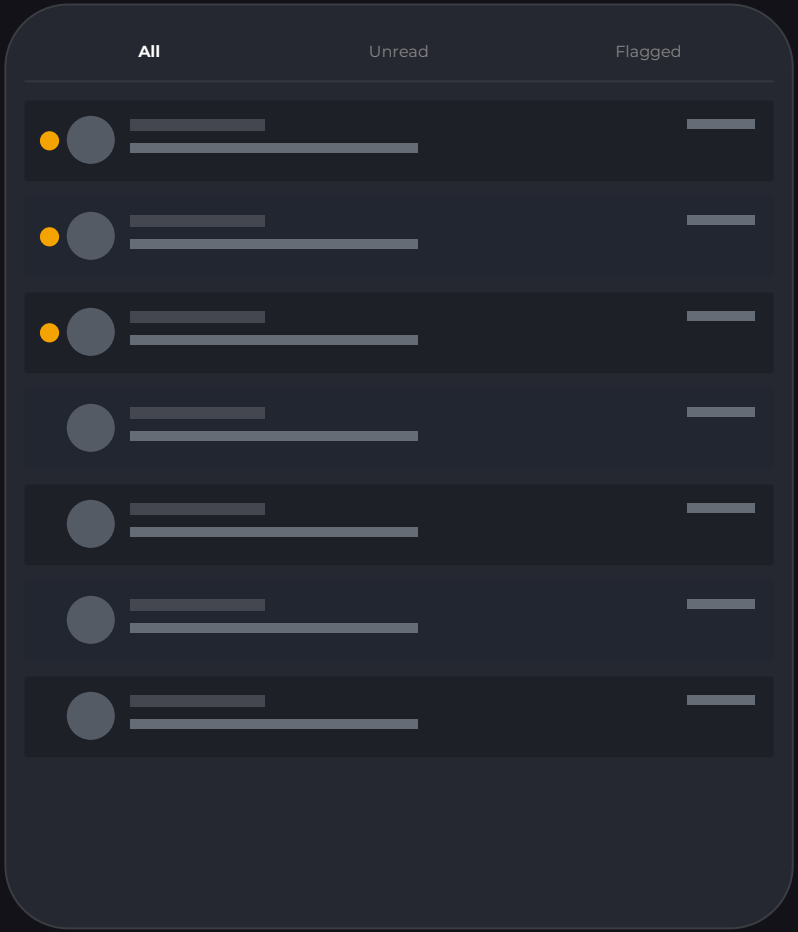
A unified portal where you manage all incoming requests from employers — document submissions, additional questions, and pre-screening forms.

How We Use It

When an employer requests additional information, it appears in your Application Portal. Complete and submit everything from one place without switching between emails.

Why It's Important

A centralised portal prevents missed requests and ensures you respond promptly, signalling professionalism and genuine interest to employers.



Applications

Candidate Hub

What It Is

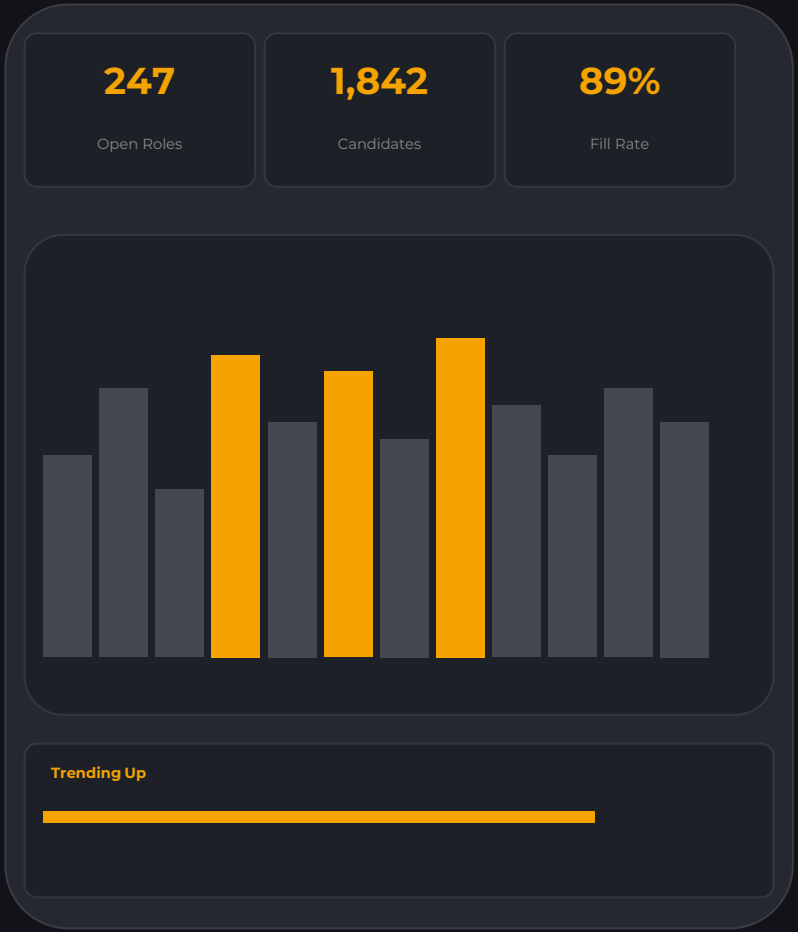
Your personal dashboard — a central landing page aggregating your profile status, active applications, upcoming interviews, and recommended actions.

How We Use It

Start your day at the Candidate Hub. See at a glance what needs attention: pending applications, interview prep, messages from recruiters, and new job matches.

Why It's Important

The Candidate Hub eliminates the need to check multiple sections. It surfaces what matters most right now, keeping you focused and productive.



Applications

Interview Scheduling

What It Is

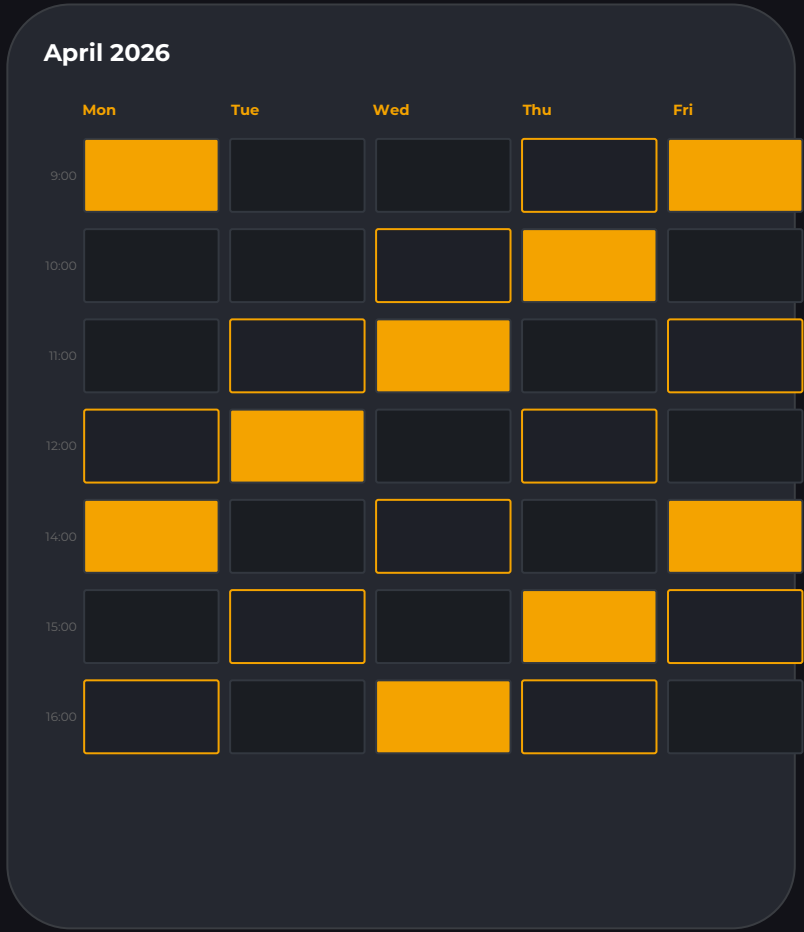
A self-service tool for viewing and booking available interview time slots offered by employers.

How We Use It

When invited to interview, view available slots, select the time that works best for you, and confirm. The interview is added to your calendar automatically.

Why It's Important

Self-scheduling puts you in control, eliminates email back-and-forth, and lets you choose times when you'll perform your best.



Experience Surveys

What It Is

Short surveys sent to you at key points in the recruitment process to capture your experience.

How We Use It

Complete brief surveys after applying, interviewing, or receiving an outcome. Your feedback is anonymous and helps improve the recruitment process.

Why It's Important

Your feedback shapes how employers recruit. Experience Surveys give you a voice and help ensure future candidates have a better experience.

Messages

What It Is

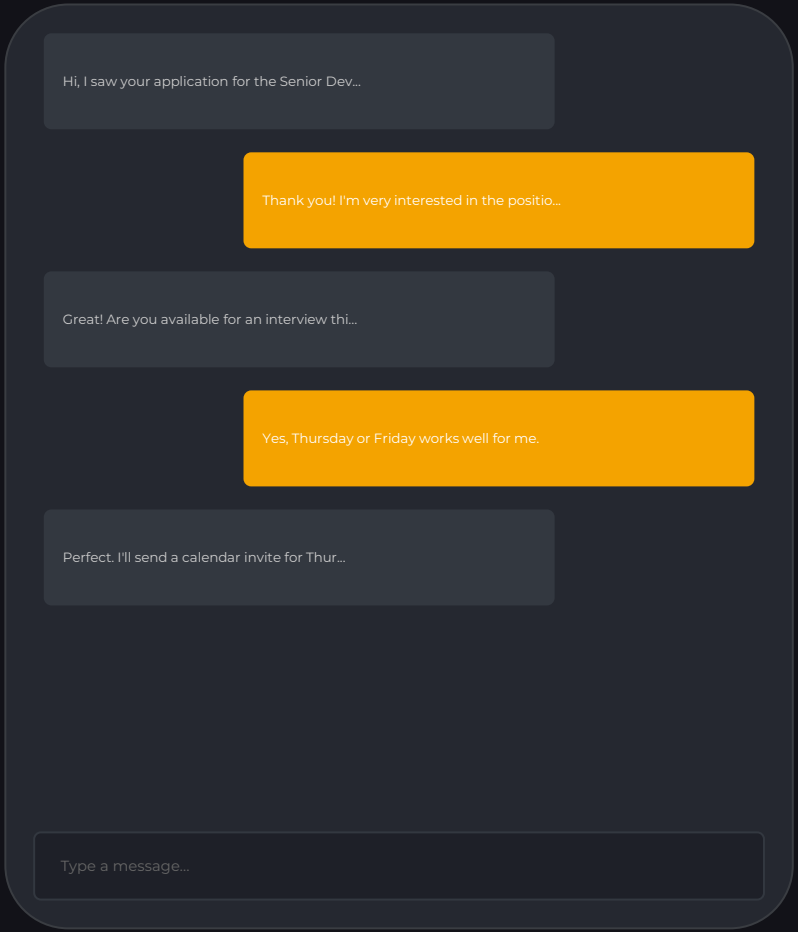
An in-platform messaging system for communicating directly with recruiters and employers.

How We Use It

Send and receive messages, ask questions about roles, respond to recruiter outreach, and keep all recruitment-related conversations in one threaded view.

Why It's Important

Centralised messaging ensures no communication gets lost in email spam folders and gives you a complete history of every conversation.



AI Tools

4 features

AI Tools

AI Coaching

What It Is

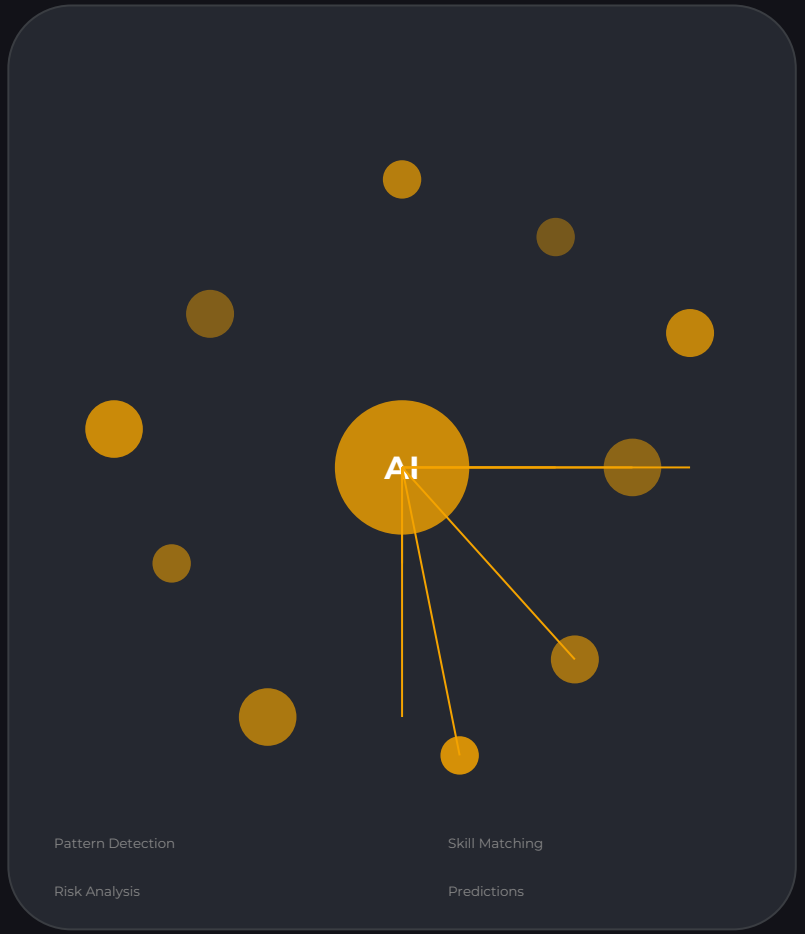
An AI-powered career coach that provides personalised guidance on your job search strategy, interview preparation, and career decisions.

How We Use It

Chat with the AI coach about your career goals, current challenges, or upcoming interviews. Receive tailored advice, practice questions, and actionable next steps.

Why It's Important

Not everyone has access to a career coach. AI Coaching provides on-demand, personalised guidance that helps you make smarter career moves and present yourself more effectively.



AI Tools

CV Review

What It Is

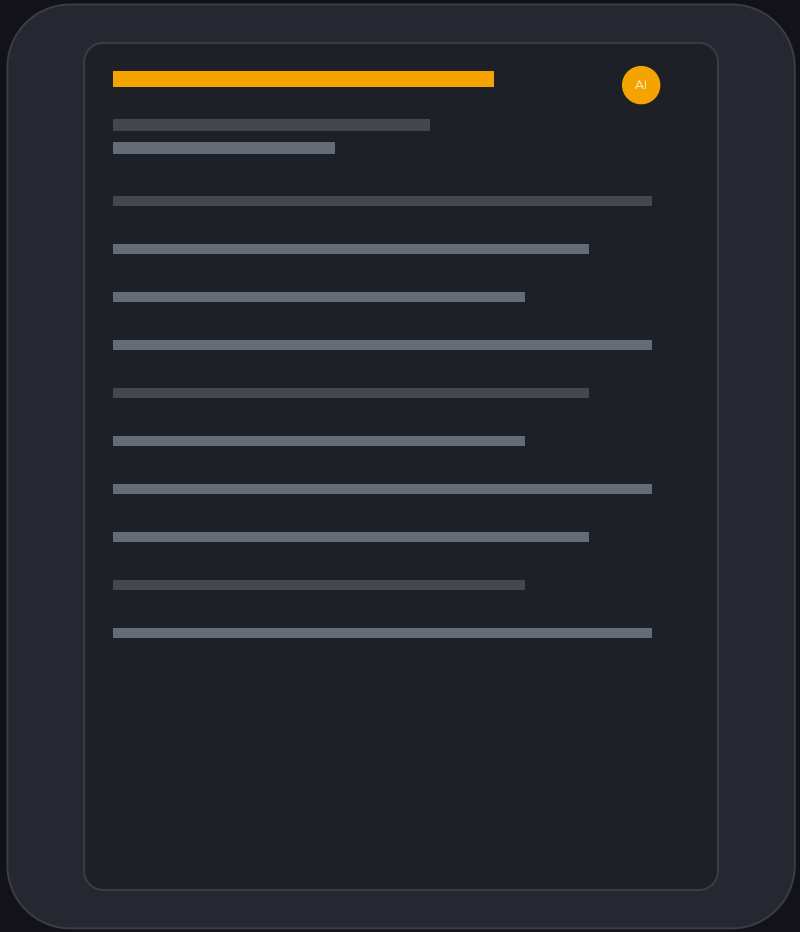
An AI tool that analyses your CV and provides specific, actionable feedback on content, structure, and impact.

How We Use It

Upload your CV and receive a detailed review covering clarity, keyword optimisation, achievement quantification, formatting issues, and gaps that recruiters will notice.

Why It's Important

Most CVs are rejected in seconds. AI CV Review helps you fix the issues that cause rejection before you apply, dramatically improving your shortlist rate.



AI Tools

Cover Letter

What It Is

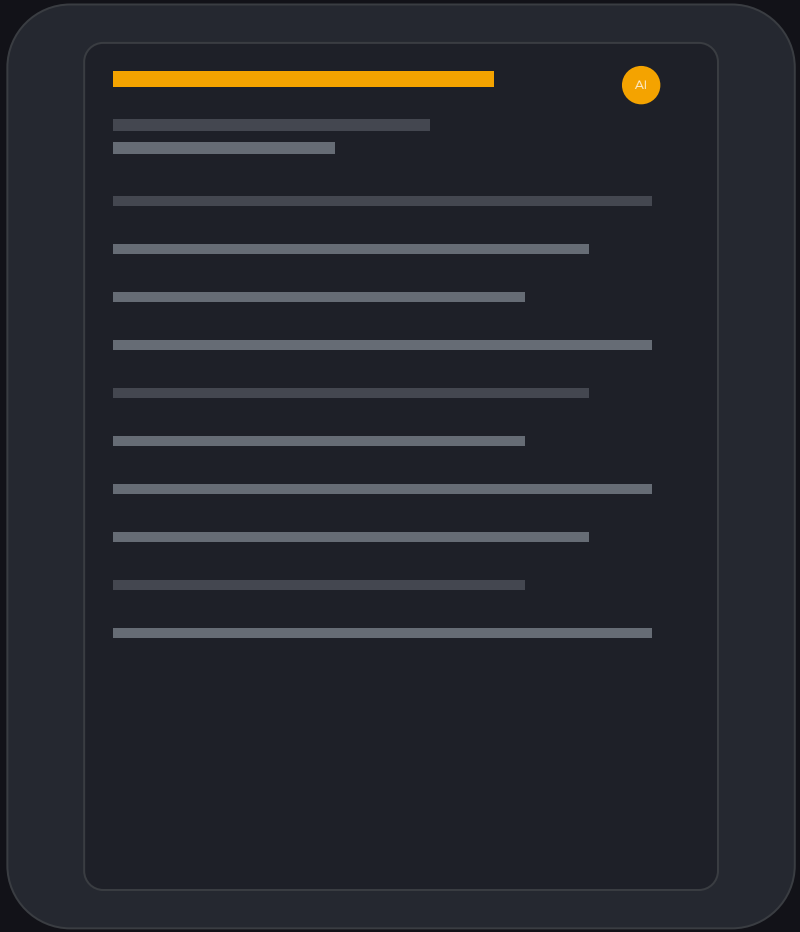
An AI-powered cover letter generator that creates tailored cover letters for specific job applications.

How We Use It

Select a job you're applying for, and the AI generates a cover letter that aligns your experience with the role's requirements. Edit, personalise, and submit.

Why It's Important

A generic cover letter hurts more than it helps. AI-generated, role-specific cover letters save time while ensuring each application feels personalised and relevant.



AI Tools

Salary Negotiator

What It Is

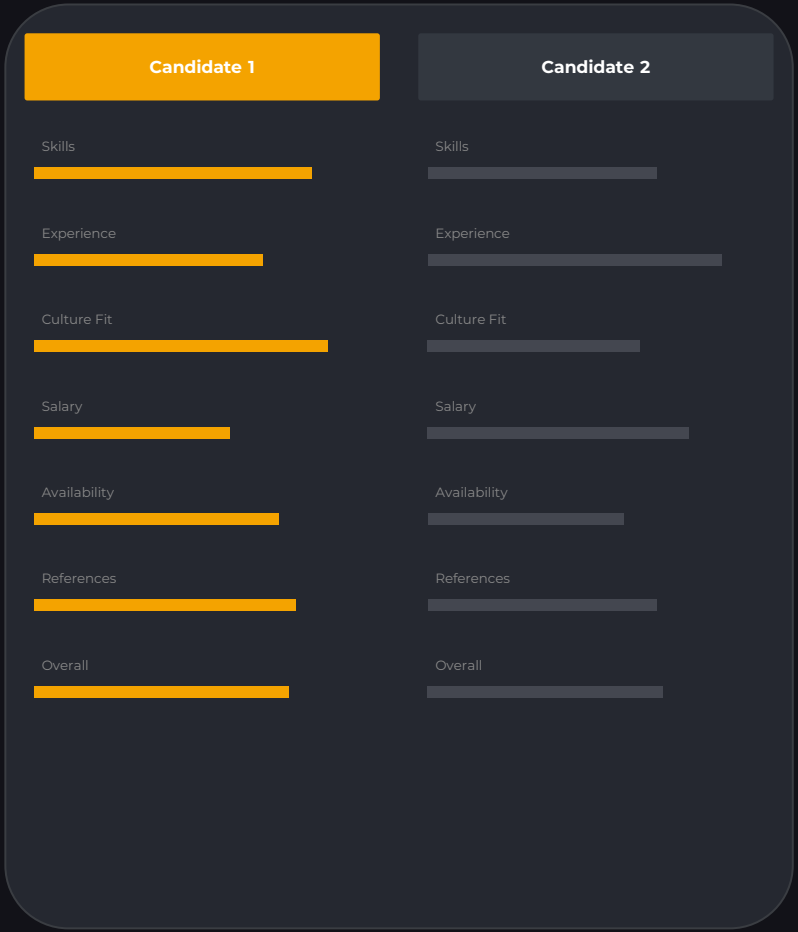
An AI tool that helps you prepare for salary negotiations with data-driven insights and conversation strategies.

How We Use It

Enter the role, your experience level, and location. The tool provides market salary data, suggests negotiation talking points, and helps you rehearse the conversation.

Why It's Important

Most people leave money on the table because they don't negotiate or negotiate poorly. The Salary Negotiator gives you the data and confidence to advocate for fair compensation.



Learning Hub

14 features

Learning Hub

Learning Dashboard

What It Is

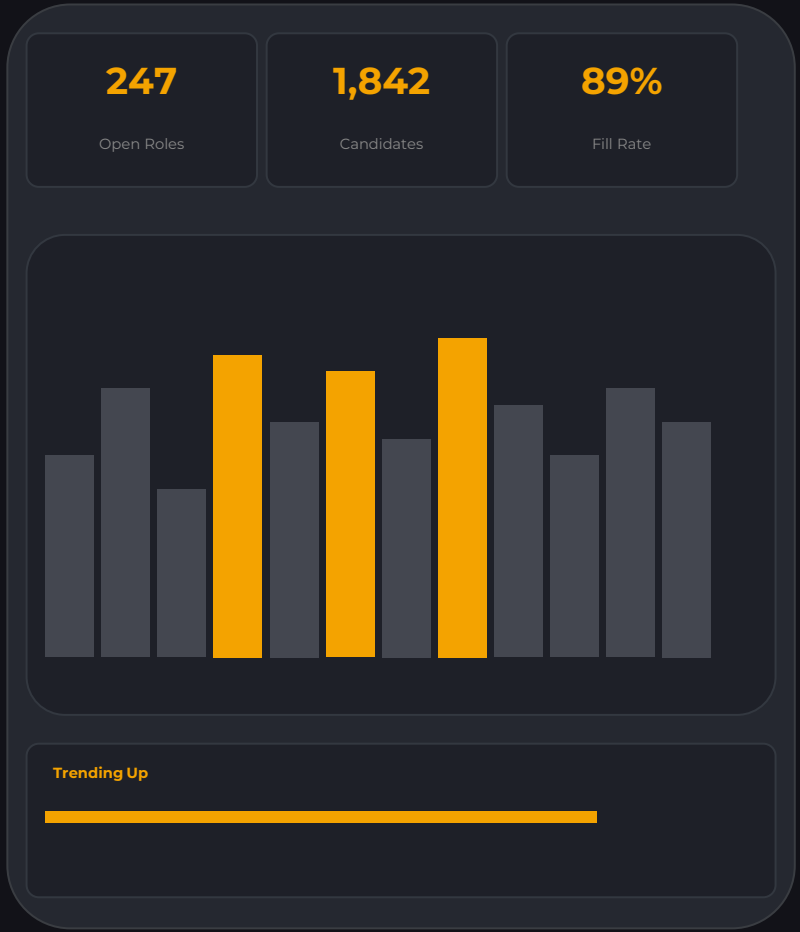
Your personal learning home page showing enrolled courses, progress, achievements, and recommended next steps.

How We Use It

Track your learning progress across all active courses and paths. See completion percentages, upcoming deadlines, and personalised recommendations based on your career goals.

Why It's Important

A clear dashboard keeps you motivated and on track. Seeing your progress builds momentum and helps you prioritise what to learn next.



Learning Paths

What It Is

Curated sequences of courses and activities designed to build competency in a specific skill or role.

How We Use It

Browse learning paths by career goal — e.g., "Become a Data Analyst" or "Master Project Management." Enrol and work through the structured sequence at your own pace.

Why It's Important

Random courses don't build careers. Learning Paths provide a structured roadmap that takes you from where you are to where you want to be, step by step.

Learning Hub

Skill Tree

What It Is

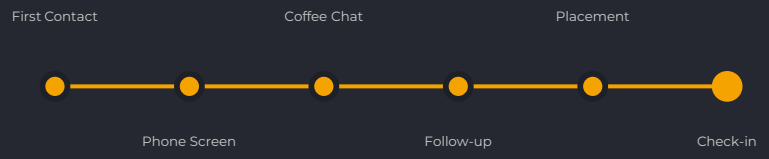
A visual map of your skills showing current levels, relationships between skills, and growth opportunities.

How We Use It

View your skill tree to understand your strengths and gaps. Click on any skill to see learning resources, verification tests, and related career paths.

Why It's Important

The Skill Tree gives you a clear picture of your professional capability and shows you exactly where to invest your learning time for maximum career impact.



Learning Hub

Micro Learning

What It Is

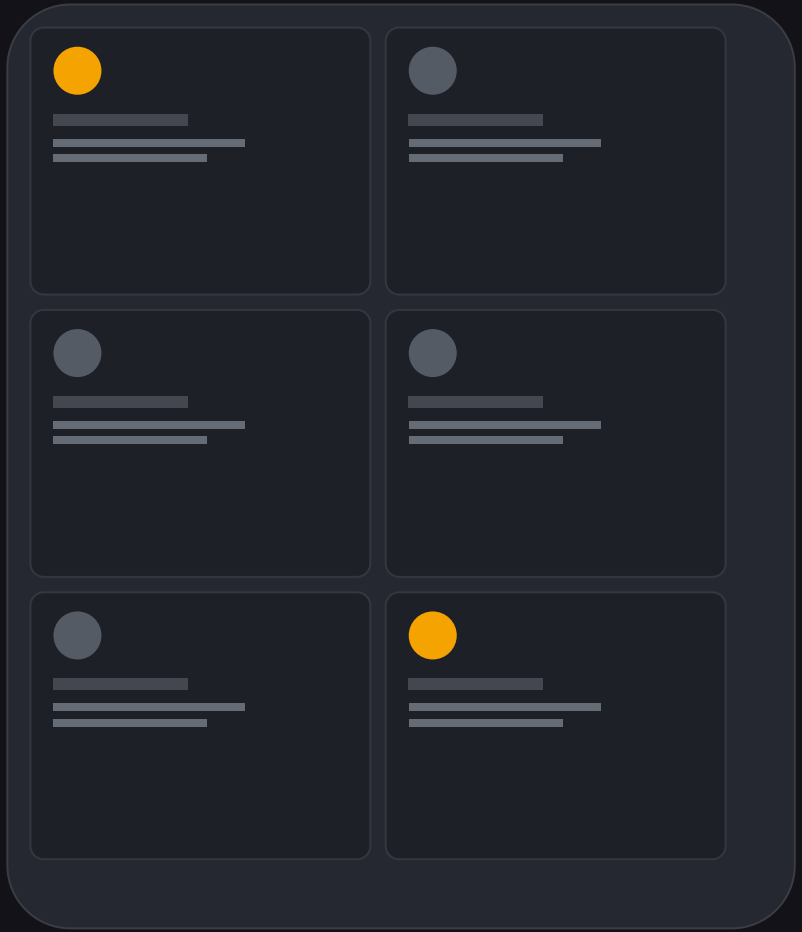
Short, focused learning modules (5–15 minutes) that teach a single concept or skill.

How We Use It

Complete bite-sized lessons during commutes, lunch breaks, or between tasks. Each module covers one topic and includes a quick knowledge check.

Why It's Important

Not everyone has hours to dedicate to learning. Micro Learning makes skill development accessible in small, consistent doses — and consistency beats intensity.



Learning Hub

Interview Simulator

What It Is

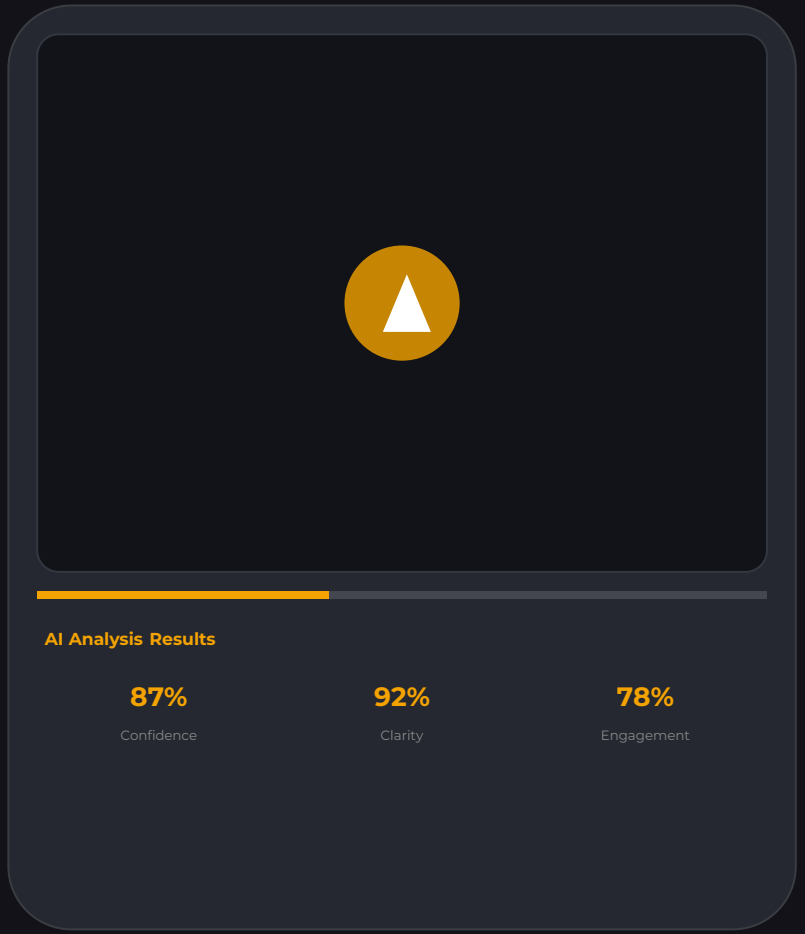
An AI-powered mock interview tool that simulates real interview scenarios and provides feedback on your responses.

How We Use It

Select an interview type (behavioural, technical, case study) and role. The simulator asks questions, you respond (text or video), and the AI provides detailed feedback on content, structure, and delivery.

Why It's Important

Interview skills improve with practice, but practice opportunities are rare. The simulator gives you unlimited, risk-free practice with actionable feedback.



Learning Hub

Job-Linked Learning

What It Is

Learning recommendations directly tied to the jobs you're interested in or have applied for.

How We Use It

When viewing a job listing, see which skills you're missing and access targeted learning modules to close those gaps before or during the application process.

Why It's Important

Job-Linked Learning turns a "not quite qualified" into "qualified." It shows you exactly what to learn to become competitive for the roles you want.

Challenges

What It Is

Practical, project-based challenges that test and develop your skills through real-world scenarios.

How We Use It

Browse available challenges by skill area, complete them within the given timeframe, and submit your work. Top submissions earn recognition and badges.

Why It's Important

Challenges prove you can apply knowledge, not just memorise it. Completed challenges become portfolio pieces and demonstrate initiative to employers.

Technical Skills	4/5
Communication	3/5
Problem Solving	5/5
Culture Fit	4/5

Learning Hub

Portfolio Builder

What It Is

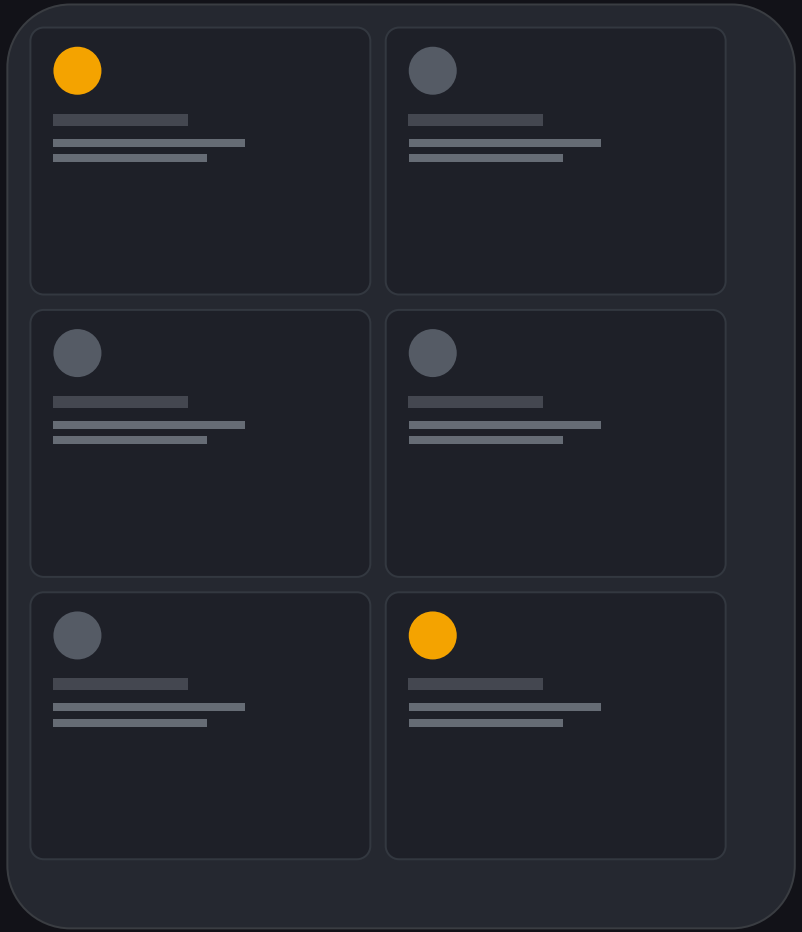
A tool for creating and showcasing a professional portfolio of your work, projects, and achievements.

How We Use It

Add projects, challenge submissions, code samples, designs, or case studies. Organise them by skill or industry and share your portfolio link with employers.

Why It's Important

A portfolio shows, not tells. For many roles, seeing your actual work is more persuasive than any CV bullet point.



Learning Hub

Peer Teaching

What It Is

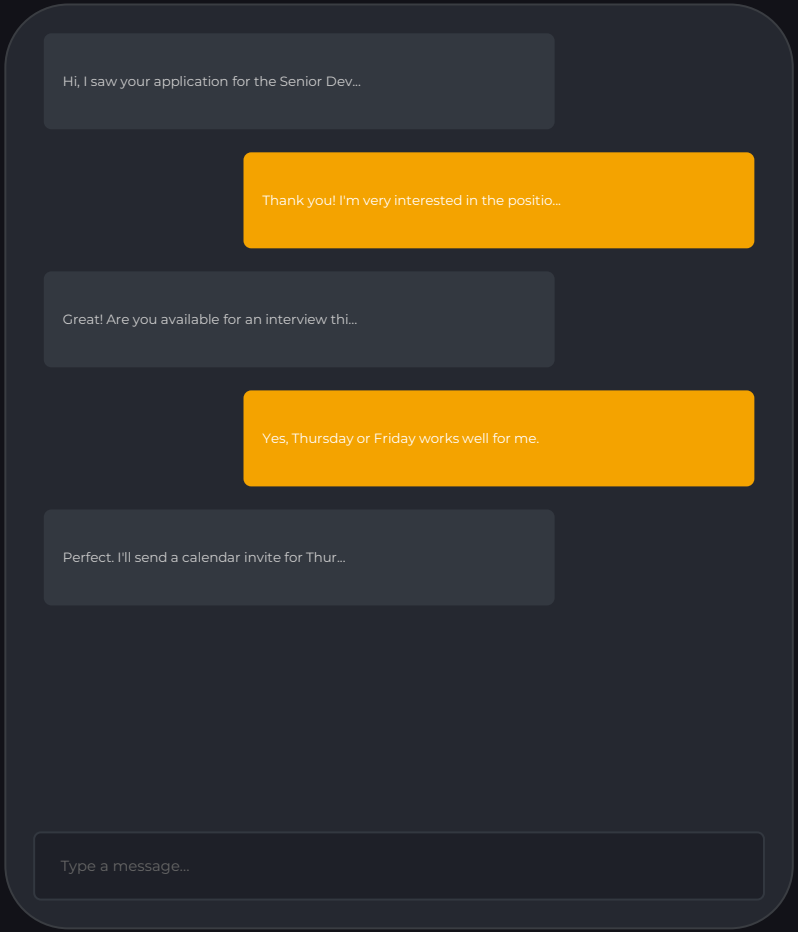
A collaborative learning feature where you can teach topics you're strong in and learn from others.

How We Use It

Offer to teach skills you've mastered and sign up for sessions taught by peers. Teaching earns you recognition and badges while reinforcing your own knowledge.

Why It's Important

Teaching is the deepest form of learning. Peer Teaching builds your expertise, communication skills, and professional network simultaneously.



Learning Hub

SETA Learnerships

What It Is

Access to Sector Education and Training Authority (SETA) accredited learnership programmes in South Africa.

How We Use It

Browse available learnerships by SETA and industry, check eligibility requirements, and apply directly through the platform.

Why It's Important

SETA learnerships provide structured, accredited training with practical workplace experience — a proven pathway into employment, especially for early-career individuals.

Certifications

What It Is

A catalogue of professional certifications you can pursue, with study resources and exam preparation support.

How We Use It

Browse certifications relevant to your career goals, access preparation materials and study guides, and track your progress toward certification readiness.

Why It's Important

Certifications validate your expertise to employers and often unlock higher salary bands and more senior roles. They're especially valuable in regulated industries.

Learning Hub

Study Planner

What It Is

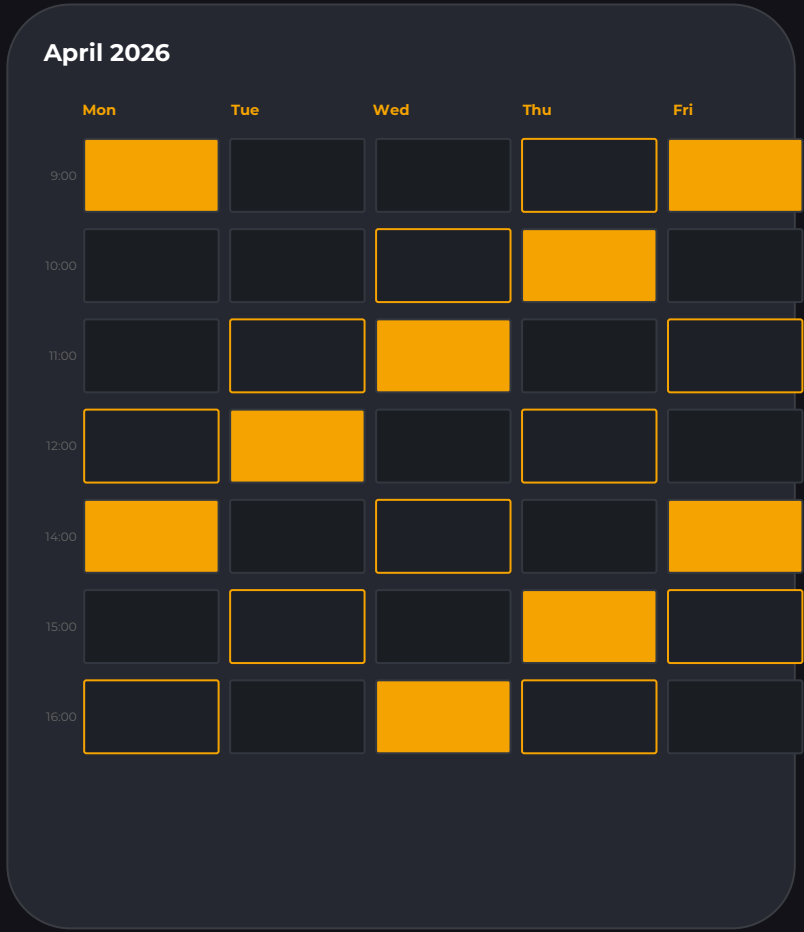
A personal study scheduling tool that helps you plan and stick to your learning commitments.

How We Use It

Set your learning goals and available study time. The planner creates a realistic schedule, sends reminders, and adjusts if you fall behind or get ahead.

Why It's Important

Good intentions without a plan rarely lead to results. The Study Planner turns "I should learn that" into a concrete, achievable schedule.



Learning Analytics

What It Is

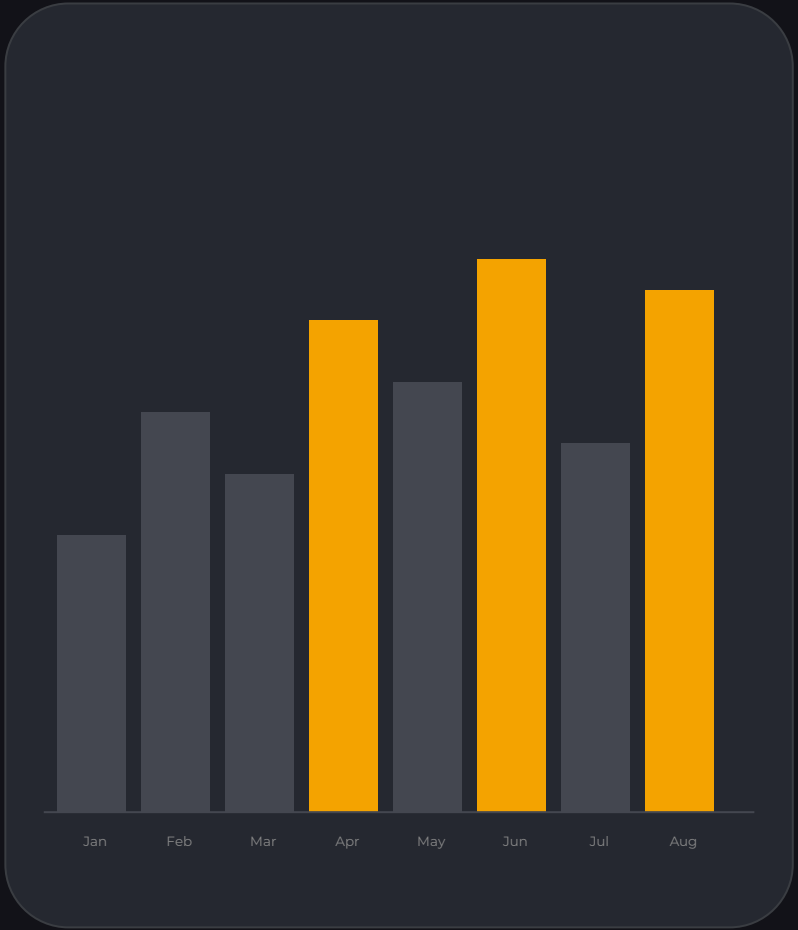
Detailed analytics on your learning activity — time spent, modules completed, quiz scores, and skill growth over time.

How We Use It

Review your learning patterns, identify which topics you grasp quickly and which need more attention, and track how your skill profile has evolved.

Why It's Important

Learning Analytics shows you the return on your time investment and helps you learn more effectively by understanding your own patterns.



Learning Hub

Mentorship

What It Is

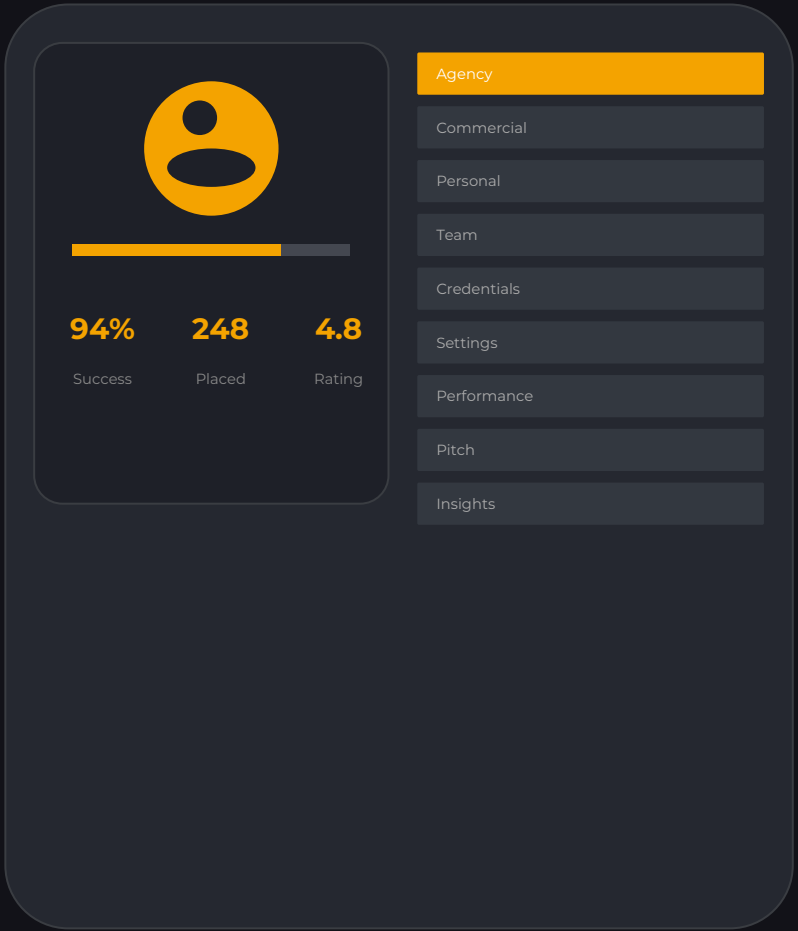
A structured mentorship programme connecting you with experienced professionals in your field.

How We Use It

Browse available mentors by industry and expertise, request a connection, and schedule mentorship sessions. Track goals and progress within the mentorship relationship.

Why It's Important

A good mentor accelerates your career by years. Structured mentorship provides guidance, accountability, and access to networks you wouldn't reach alone.



Career Development

6 features

Career Development

Skill Gap

What It Is

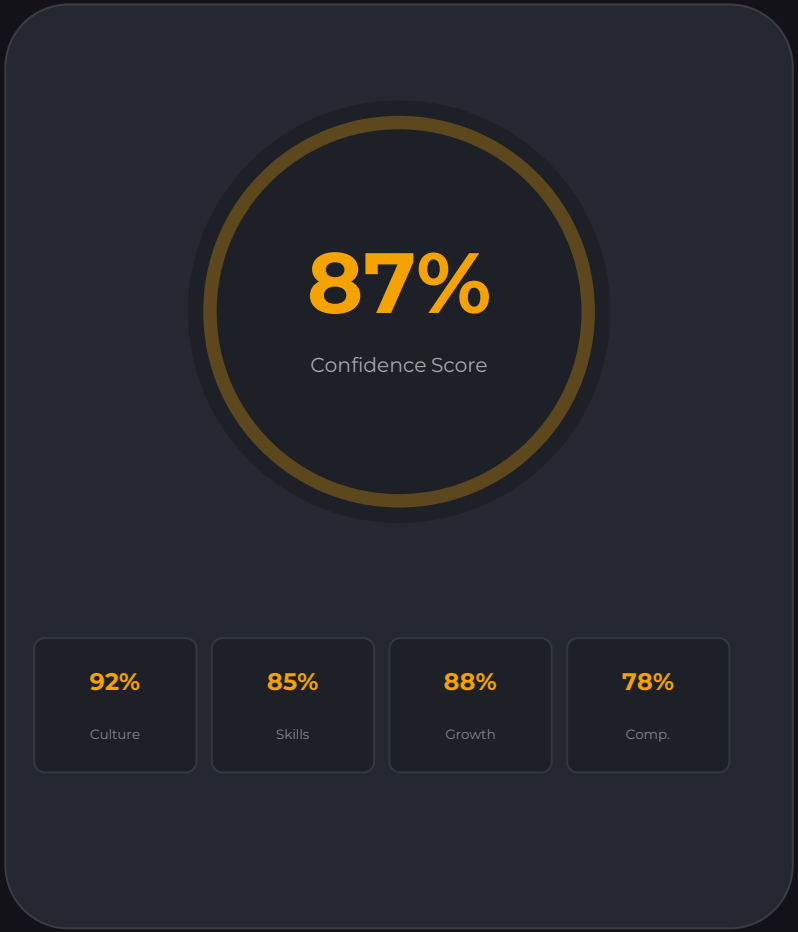
An analysis tool that identifies the gaps between your current skills and the requirements of your target roles.

How We Use It

Select your target role or career path. The tool compares your verified skills against role requirements and produces a prioritised list of gaps with linked learning resources.

Why It's Important

Knowing what you lack is the first step to closing the gap. Skill Gap analysis gives you a clear, actionable development plan instead of vague career anxiety.



Career Development

Career Path

What It Is

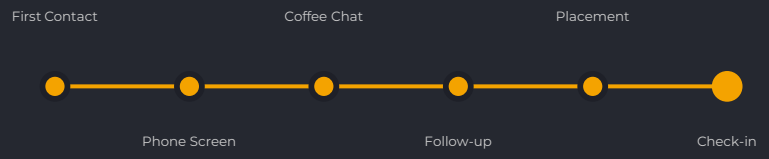
A visual career progression tool showing potential career trajectories based on your current skills and experience.

How We Use It

Explore possible career paths, see what roles you could move into, what skills each transition requires, and what the typical timeline looks like. Plan lateral moves, promotions, or career pivots.

Why It's Important

Career decisions made without data are risky. Career Path gives you a map of where you can go and what it takes to get there.



Career Development

Salary Insights

What It Is

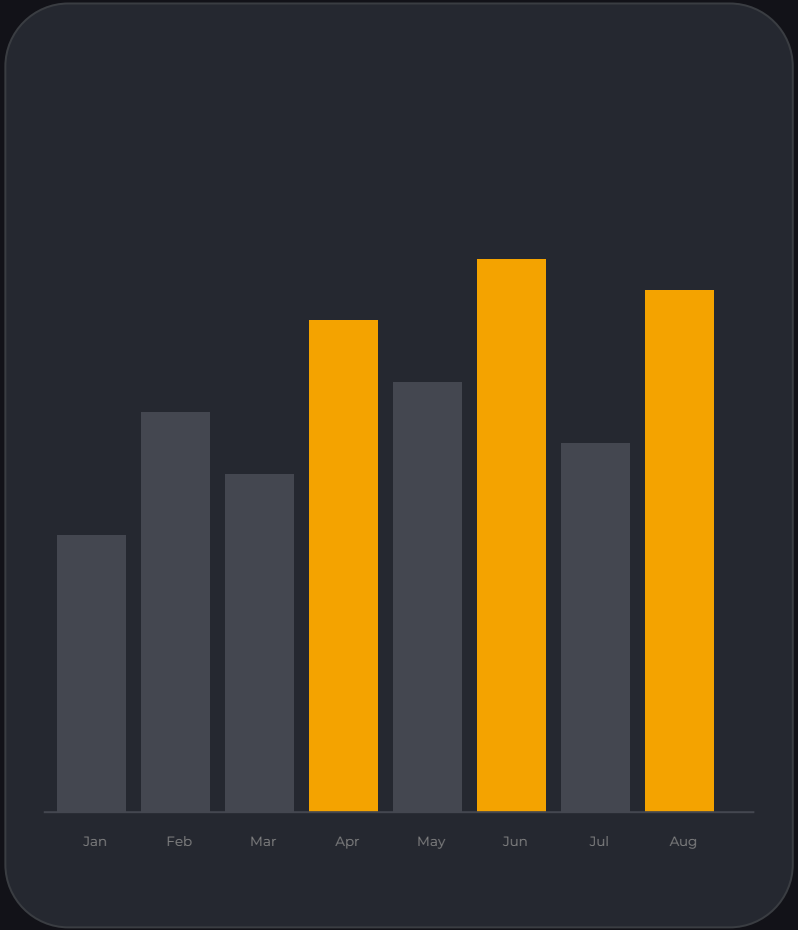
Market salary data showing compensation ranges for roles by title, industry, experience level, and location.

How We Use It

Search for a role and see salary ranges — median, 25th percentile, and 75th percentile. Compare across locations and industries to understand your market value.

Why It's Important

Knowing your market value empowers you in job searches and negotiations. Salary Insights ensures you're neither underselling yourself nor pricing yourself out of opportunities.



Career Development

Career Pulse

What It Is

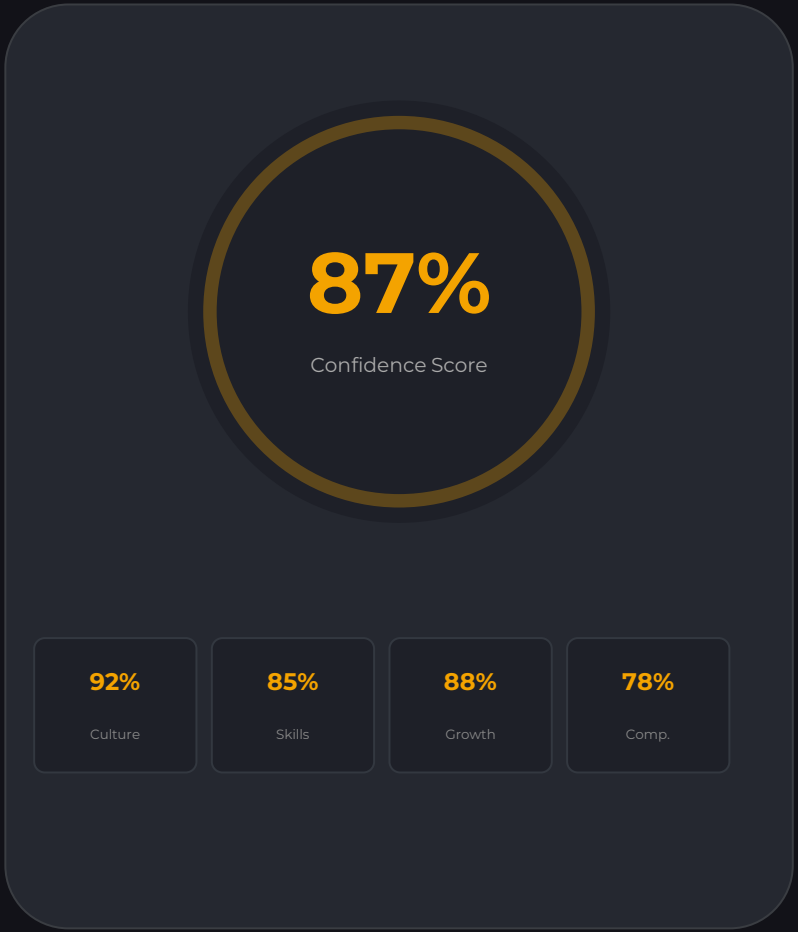
A periodic check-in tool that assesses your career satisfaction, progress, and alignment with your goals.

How We Use It

Complete regular Career Pulse surveys. The tool tracks your sentiment over time and flags when you might be ready for a change, need development, or should explore new opportunities.

Why It's Important

Career drift happens slowly. Career Pulse helps you stay intentional about your professional life by surfacing dissatisfaction or misalignment before it becomes a crisis.



Career Development

Tests

What It Is

Skills and knowledge assessments that validate your abilities and add verified credentials to your profile.

How We Use It

Browse available tests by category, take assessments online, and receive immediate results. Passing scores add verified badges to your profile.

Why It's Important

Test results provide objective evidence of your capabilities, giving you an advantage over candidates who only claim skills on their CV.

Analytics

What It Is

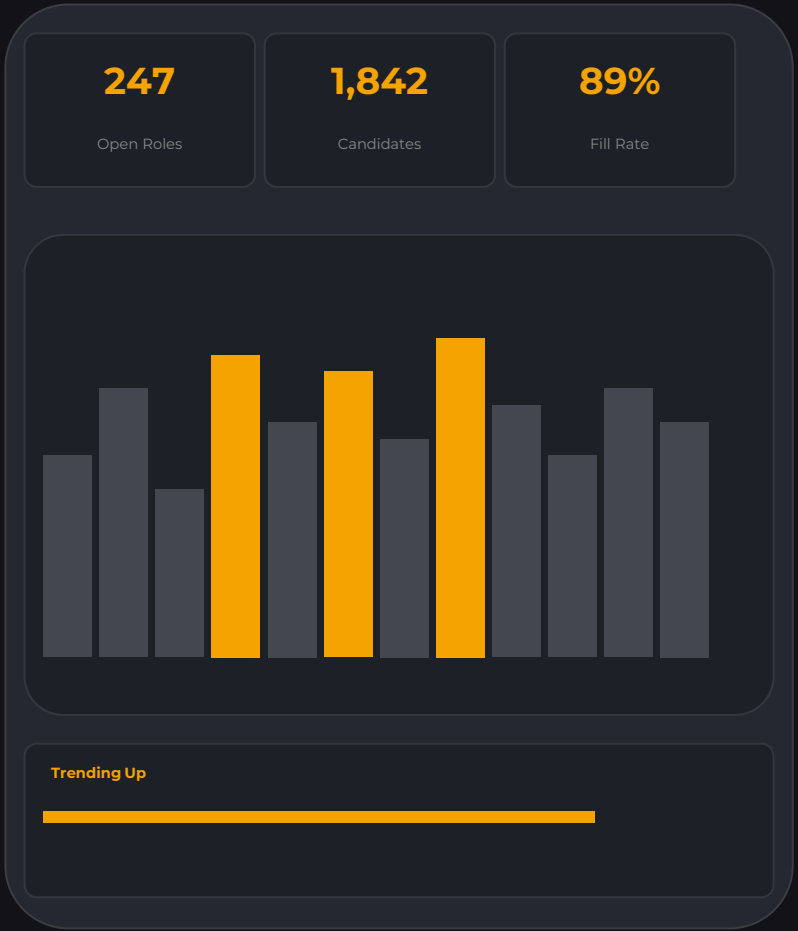
A personal career analytics dashboard showing your profile strength, market competitiveness, and job search performance.

How We Use It

Review metrics including profile views, search appearances, application success rates, and how you compare to other candidates in your field.

Why It's Important

Analytics turn your career management from guesswork into strategy. Understanding how the market sees you helps you make targeted improvements.



Community

6 features

Community

Community Forum

What It Is

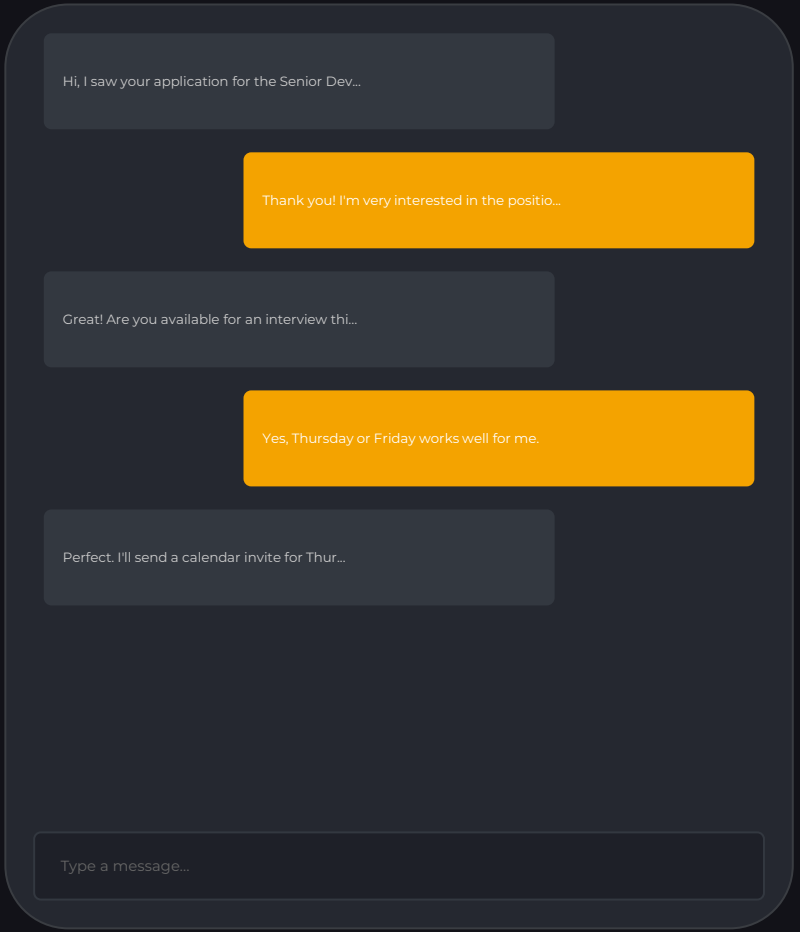
A discussion forum where job seekers, professionals, and mentors share advice, experiences, and support.

How We Use It

Browse topics, ask questions, share your experiences, and engage with others in your industry or career stage. Participate in discussions to build your network and reputation.

Why It's Important

Job searching can be isolating. The Community Forum provides peer support, practical advice, and connections that make the journey less lonely and more effective.



Community

Trending

What It Is

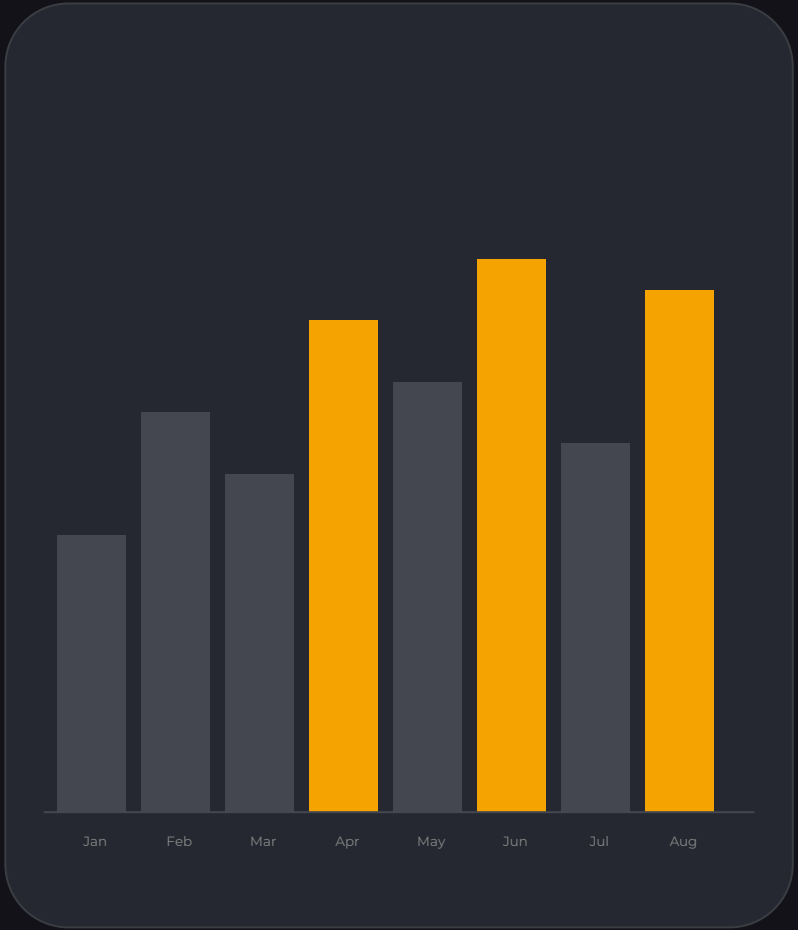
A curated feed of trending topics, discussions, and content within the community.

How We Use It

Check Trending to see what the community is talking about — hot industries, common interview questions, salary trends, and career advice that's resonating.

Why It's Important

Staying current on what matters to your peers and the market keeps you informed and helps you spot opportunities and trends early.



Community

Leaderboard

What It Is

A gamified ranking system that recognises active community members based on contributions, learning, and engagement.

How We Use It

Earn points by completing courses, helping peers, taking assessments, and engaging in the community. See where you rank and strive to climb the leaderboard.

Why It's Important

The Leaderboard motivates consistent engagement and learning. High-ranking members build visibility and credibility that can attract recruiter attention.

Technical Skills	4/5
Communication	3/5
Problem Solving	5/5
Culture Fit	4/5
Leadership	3/5
Overall	4/5

Community

Interview Vault

What It Is

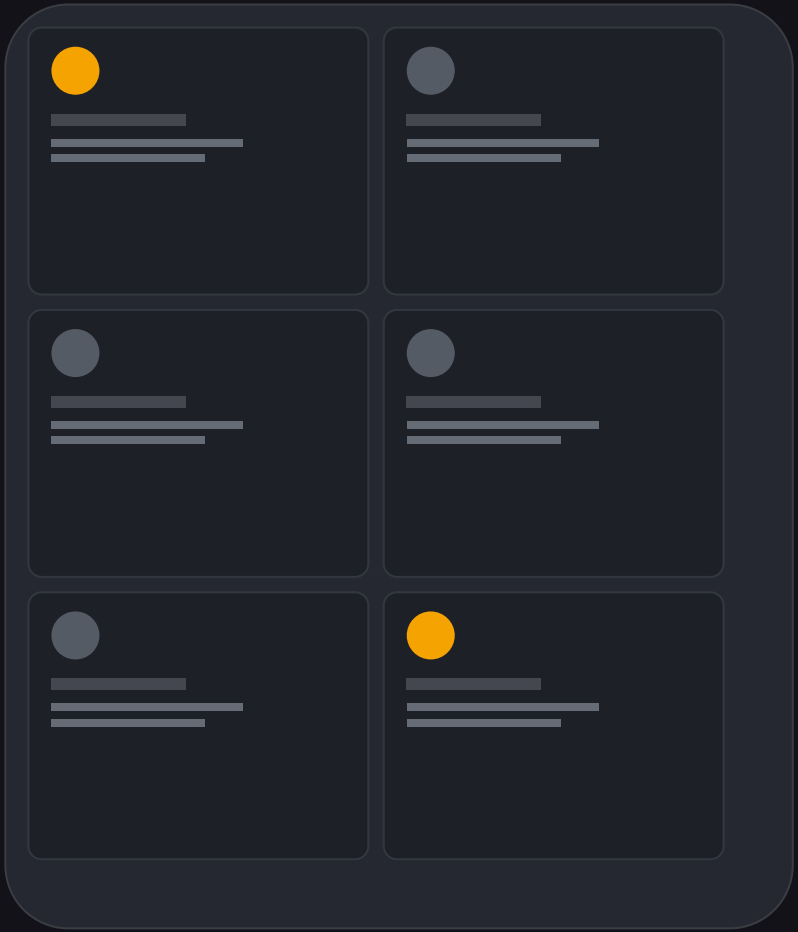
A shared repository of real interview questions and experiences contributed by community members.

How We Use It

Search by company or role type to find interview questions others have encountered. Contribute your own experiences after interviews to help the community.

Why It's Important

Knowing what to expect in an interview is a massive advantage. The Interview Vault gives you insider knowledge that would otherwise require expensive coaching or lucky connections.



Community

Mentor Connect

What It Is

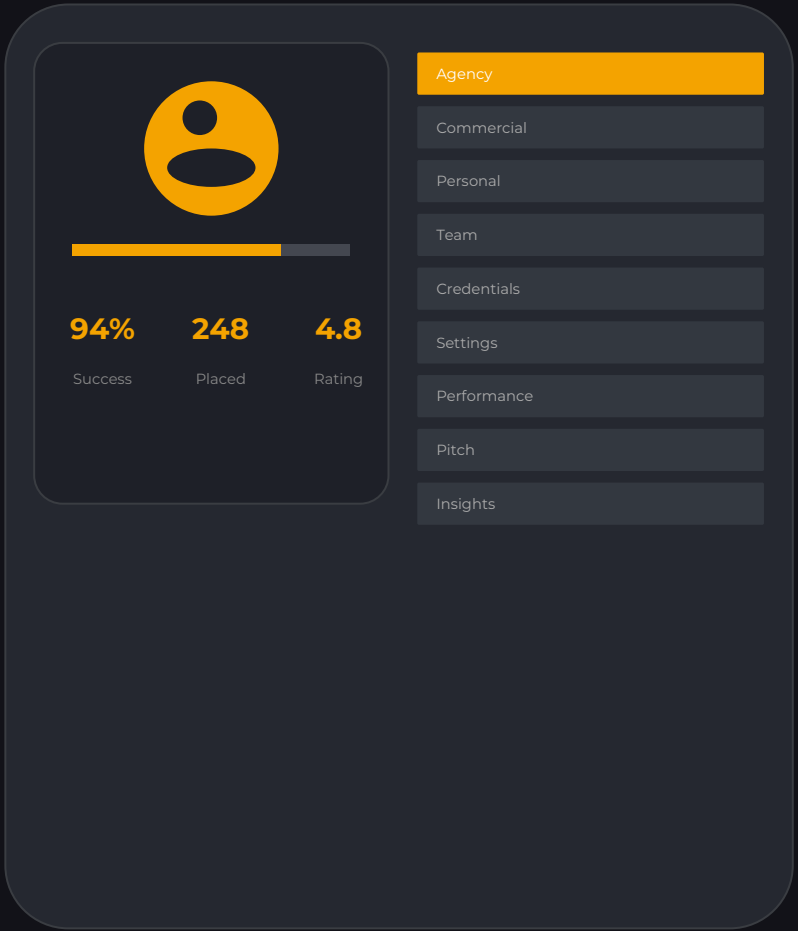
A matchmaking feature that connects you with mentors based on your career goals, industry, and development needs.

How We Use It

Complete your mentorship profile with your goals and preferences. The system suggests compatible mentors. Send connection requests and schedule your first session.

Why It's Important

Finding the right mentor is hard. Mentor Connect removes the guesswork and connects you with people who have walked the path you're trying to follow.



Community

Badges

What It Is

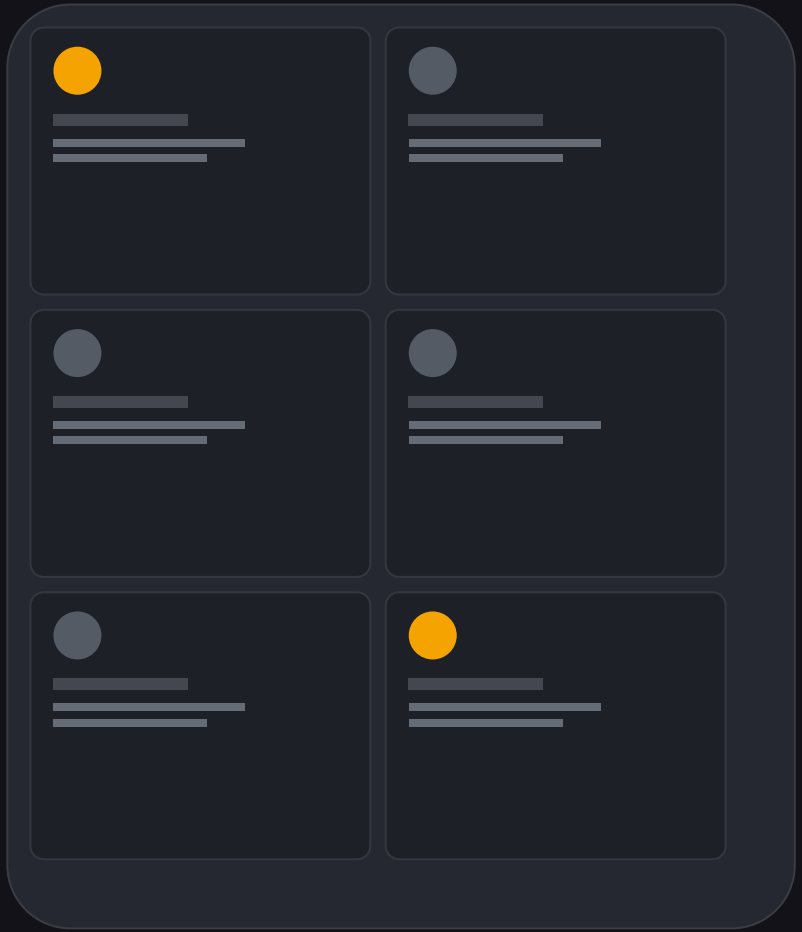
Digital achievement badges earned through learning, assessments, community contributions, and career milestones.

How We Use It

Earn badges by completing courses, passing skill verifications, helping peers, and reaching career milestones. Badges display on your profile and are visible to recruiters.

Why It's Important

Badges are micro-credentials that signal commitment and growth. They make your profile more attractive and provide conversation starters with recruiters.



Account

2 features

Account

Billing

What It Is

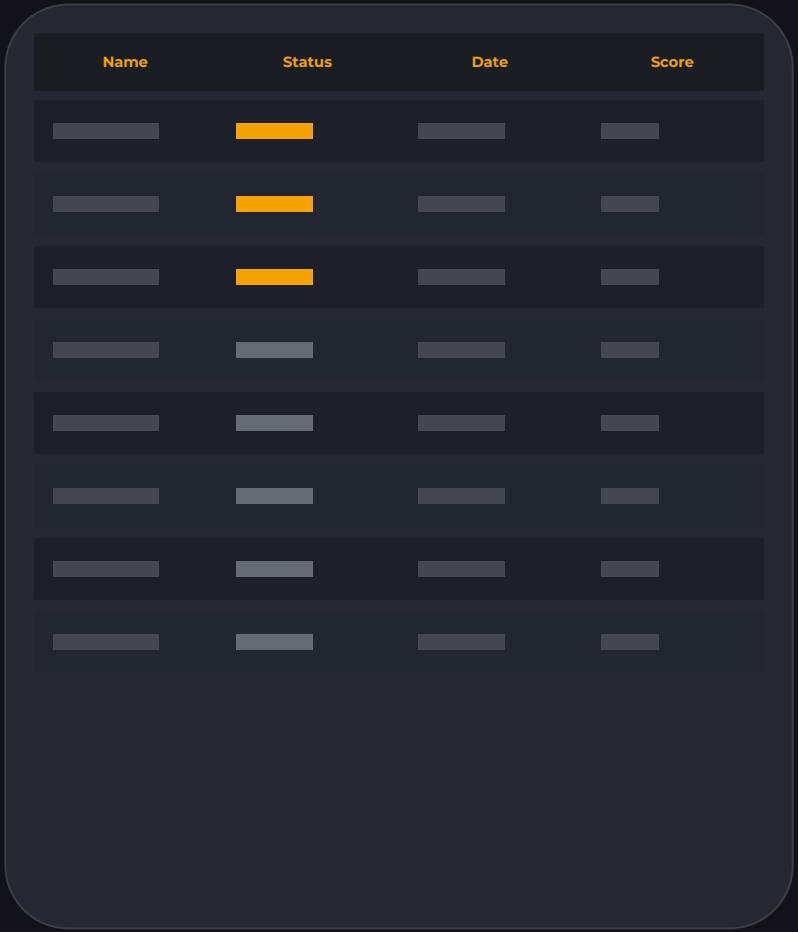
Subscription and payment management for your Sebenza Hub individual account.

How We Use It

View your current plan, upgrade for premium features, manage payment methods, download invoices, and track your subscription status.

Why It's Important

Clear billing management ensures you have access to the features you need and prevents unexpected charges.



Account

Settings

What It Is

Personal account configuration including privacy, notifications, integrations, and profile visibility.

How We Use It

Control who can see your profile, manage email and push notification preferences, connect external accounts (LinkedIn, GitHub), and configure your job search preferences.

Why It's Important

Proper settings ensure the platform works for you — protecting your privacy when needed, alerting you to what matters, and keeping irrelevant noise out of your experience.
